BUS IN TURNPIKE CRASH — A Lancaster, Pa., woman was killed and six other persons on this Greyhound bus were injured when the bus rammed the rear of a truck on the Ohio Turnpike near Sandusky. The bus driver, Charles Taylor, was due to retire after 35 years' service.

Some School Courses Dropped

Lisbon Teacher Staff Cut

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education plagued by money problems, Tuesday night cut the schools' teaching staff from 72 to 66 for the 1963-64 term as another step in its austerity program.

The teacher cutback, however, will result in no financial gain for the system as the board, at the same time, increased the salaries of some instructors.

The board dropped from its next year's schedule drivers education, cooperative office education, general English, speech and hearing, and commercial education and business.

In addition, the board is attempting to induce another school system to share the services and expenses of Lisbon's school psychologist.

The board hopes to provide a drivers training course during the summer, members said. Scheduled for the next term are a special education class of slow learners in the 10-13-year-old group, industrial arts for junior high students, group guidance and personal typing and note taking.

Citing its reasons for the cutback in teachers, the board said the state provides funds for employment of only 52 teachers for the 1,556 students enrolled.

The salary increases were granted to the teachers in the highest pay bracket, those with the longest periods of service.

The board said it was necessary to increase their salaries to keep them from leaving the system for employment elsewhere.

Thirty-six teachers were given one-year contracts, two continuing contracts, and the balance of teachers with continuous contracts were given salary adjustments.

Mrs. Sally Workman, 6th grade teacher at McKinley School, resigned effective at the completion of this semester, it was announced.

Summer school classes were discussed, along with school bus trips. The board granted permission to the world history classes to visit the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh May 3.

The Nazarene Church was given permission to use the Memorial Stadium Sunday for Easter sunrise service.

Supt. Oliver Payne reported that the financial statement for 1962 was published in May 29 and the 1963 appropriation was filed with county auditor March 27.

He also reported the kits needed for the electrical program will cost $390 instead of the anticipated $420. However meters from Ross Radio Co. will be $645.12 instead of the expected $505.

Miller Named Ford President

'Whiz Kid' Succeeds Retiring Dykstra

DETROIT (AP)—Arjay R. Miller, a scholarly appearing Nebraskan with a strong background in finance, was named president of Ford Motor Co. today.

Miller succeeds John Dykstra who is retiring because of age. Dykstra will be 65 next week.

Charles H. Patterson, who has been vice president of Ford's basic manufacturing group, was named to the long-vacant post of executive vice president.

Miller, 47, was one of Ford's original whiz kids, a group of 10 Air Force statistical officers who joined the automaker in a body during its postwar reorganization.

He is the second from the group to reach the top spot. The first was Robert S. McNamara, who served two months in 1960 before moving to Washington to become secretary of defense.

Although conforming strictly to the standard auto industry practice of retirement at 65, confirmation of Dykstra's impending departure was regarded as a mild surprise. He became president two years ago this month. At that time Ford spokesmen indicated to questioners he might not quit automatically when he reached his 65th birthday.

Board Chairman Henry Ford II told a questioner Tuesday Dykstra will retire this month.

SHS Class of '63 Gift Will Be Entrance Sign

Twin signs to be constructed at the N. Lincoln Avenue entrance to Salem Senior High School were selected as the 1963 class gift by the seniors in a balloting, conducted at the school, it was announced today by Miss Betty Ulicny, Senior Class adviser.

One of three projects presented for class approval by the senior gift committee, the signs won over the alternate suggestions of purchasing books for the school library or purchasing physical ed-

City Trash Collection Set April 17

Service Director James E. Feiler announced today that the city's annual trash collection will begin Wednesday, April 17, a week from today.

A crew of seven city workers will cover Salem's 43 miles of streets to gather up residents' accumulations of cans and other trash. However, no tree limbs or garbage will be picked up by the city crew, Feiler explained.

The service director announces this four-day schedule for trash collections:

Wednesday, April 17, collection in the city's northwest section from the north side of State St. to and including the west side of Ellsworth Ave.;

Thursday, April 18, southwest area from the south side of State St. and within and including the west side of Ellsworth Ave.;

Friday, April 19, northeast area, north side of State St. to and including east side of Ellsworth Ave.;

Monday, April 22, southeast area, south side of State St. to and including east side of Ellsworth Ave. Collections will be made from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. The service director suggests that trash to be collected be placed out no sooner than the evening before the scheduled collection and that precaution be taken to keep the trash from being scattered before it is collected. The city workers will be unable to make back calls.

ucation equipment for the boys' and girls' auxiliary gymnasiums.

The markers will be erected at opposite angles on either side of the double driveway, one facing south and one facing north.

Nine feet wide and five feet four inches high, each sign will be constructed of norman brick to match the brickwork of the school, and will be centered with a flagstone on which six - inch letters spelling out Salem Senior High School will be carved. Smaller letters will designate the Class of 1963 as the donors of the signs. Flagstone will also trim the top of each marker.

The total cost of the construction has been set at $770, to be paid by the Senior Class.

John Hollinger will handle the construction work, while the Logue Monument Co. will do the lettering. The project has received the approval of the School Administration, who have agreed to take care of the necessary lighting equipment. It is expected that the signs will be completed prior to commencement week in June.

The 1963 gift committee was comprised of the following seniors: Lanny Broomall, Tom Griffiths, Karl Fieldhouse, Joe Hornung, Jim Longworth, Richard Shoop, Richard Trevelevan, Deirdra Coy, Roy Rogers, and Darryl Everett.

The 1962 class gift was the six-foot aluminum skeleton dial clock on the front of the high school.

Group To Sponsor Kent Scholarship

The executive committee of the Retail Division, Salem Area Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday in the C. of C. office and voted to sponsor a $200 scholarship for the Salem Area Academic Center of Kent State University.

Council OK's Gas Rate Increase

2nd St. Proposal Offered By Sekely

Main considerations at the regular session of City Council Tuesday evening dealt with the passage of four ordinances and the reading of two letters from Salem businessmen.

The letters were from R. J.

Sekely of Sekely Industrial Tool and Manufacturing Inc. and Robert W. Campbell of the People's Lumber Co. Both letters concerned the effect the W. State St. overpass will have on traffic to and from their respective plants.

Ordinances passed included three measures which were introduced, given all three readings and passed with emergency clauses; and the new Ohio Fuel Gas Co. rate ordinance providing for an over-all 2.8 per cent increase over the current rates. This ordinance was introduced and given two readings at previous City Council meetings this year.

The three ordinances newly introduced and passed unanimously Tuesday night:

Authorize and direct the city solicitor to settle for $500 the city's claim against Franklin Homes, Inc.;

Provide for the issuance of notes by the city of Salem in anticipation of the collection of current revenues for the purpose of meeting the street department and park department payroll;

Authorize and direct the public service director to enter into agreements with the Ohio Edison Co. which are necessary for the replacement and construction of power lines and poles along the north side of W. State St. in conjunction with construction of the overpass.

Sekely Outlines Plan

Sekely proposed to Council that Second St. be extended from Jennings Ave. and offered to give the city land necessary for the extension.

Wrote Sekely: "There has been considerable conversation regarding the problem of semi-truck traffic to and from our plant with the elimination of our access to State St. via Pennsylvania Ave. once the W. State St. overpass is a reality. One of the first solutions to this problem was the improvement of Sugar-tree Alley. This improvement would necessitate the condemnation of property and buildings creating an extreme cost situation.

"Therefore, we would like to submit a proposal for the extension of Second St. which we believe is a solution to the problems facing our company as a result of the construction of the W. State St. overpass. Accompanying this proposal is an engineering survey and estimates of the cost of the project.

"This proposal not only will solve our particular problem of ingress and egress of semi-truck traffic, but will also guarantee suitable access to the industrially desirous city owned Smith Well Field Property via Second St. extension and Pennsylvania Ave.

"We are prepared to deed to the city the land necessary for

End to Arms Race Urged By Pope John

Pontiff Calls for A-Weapons Ban; Cuts In Stockpiles

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John III appealed today for an end to the arms race and for the United Nations to be given the structure and means to safeguard world peace.

In an encyclical titled "Pacem in Terris" (Peace on Earth), the pontiff called for reduction of arms stockpiles, a ban on nuclear weapons and a general agreement eventually on "progressive disarmament and an effective method of control."

The Pope warned that the "conflagration" of war "may be set off by some uncontrollable and unexpected chance."

He added: "Even though the monstrous power of modern weapons acts as a deterrent, it is to be feared that the mere continuance of nuclear tests, undertaken with war in mind, will have fatal consequences for life on the earth."

The Pope called for the deterrent of arms equality to be replaced by universal acceptance of the fundamental principle "that

No Reaction Yet From White House

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The wounds from the "Big Steel battle" were deep and the stitches still show.

While businessmen have gingerly accepted the Kennedy administration's peace offerings, they keep a wary eye on the smoke signals.

Tuesday night, on the eve of the first anniversary of the clash over steel prices, there was a new puff on the horizon. Wheeling Steel Corp. announced it will raise, as of today, the price of several of its steel products.

No White House Reaction

There was no reaction from the White House.

Since that furious struggle a year ago, President Kennedy has gone far toward repairing his relations with business — although he'll never turn Wall Street into a Democratic precinct, and never expected to.

Hard Road President's Youth Bill Faces GOP Talkfest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's youth employment bill faces stiff and possibly prolonged Republican opposition in the Senate today but Democrats claimed the votes to pass it if they can get to a final roll call.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called his colleagues in two hours early and promised a night session if necessary to get action. Mansfield said he was determined to pass the high-priority administration measure before an unofficial Easter recess begins Thursday night.

However, Sen. Winston L. Prouitt, R-Vt., quarterbacking the Re-

Many industrialists who now are cashing in on the $2.5 billion of benefits from Kennedy's 1962 tax program—benefits that went to business exclusively—do admit nowadays that he can't be all bad.

President Ladd Plumley of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce told The Associated Press that Kennedy showed "manifest interest in the private sector of our economy" after the steel blow-up.

No Second Honeymoon

But he made it clear that there is no second honeymoon for Kennedy and business.

The patching-up of relations began to come unstuck in January, Plumley said, because of Kennedy's big spending budget, the costly dock strike settlement, and what Plumley called a hodgepodge tax reduction plan whose business benefits, in his opinion, are too little and too long deferred.

The U.S. chamber leader added: "The President said this was not the winter of his discontent. For businessmen, it has been the winter of our disappointment."

Plumley's disappointment is matched in other, and more surprising, quarters. Kennedy's good friends in organized labor have grown restive about what they consider his preoccupation with profits, incentives and investment.

Cooled Off With Promises

Some administration aides, eager for more works, welfare and education programs, have had to be cooled off with the promise that Kennedy will get around to their causes after he "gets the country moving again."

Roger M. Blough, board chairman of the United States Steel Corp., ran afoul of Kennedy's wrath April 10, 62, when he dropped into the White House to announce a $6 a ton increase in the price of steel.

The increase came on the heels of the smallest wage settlement the United Steelworkers Union had signed in years and after Kennedy made personal pleas to both sides to hold the wage and price lines. Other leading steelmakers quickly upped their prices to match "Big Steel."

Improved Pressures

The outraged Kennedy countered with a public denunciation of what he called their "unjustifiable and irresponsible defiance of the public interest." He mobilized an awesome array of government pressures, including the threat of antitrust action and the withholding of government contracts.

In 72 hours the once-solid front of the steel titans caved in.

Income Tax Collection Up In City

City Auditor Helen Coyne's report to City Council Tuesday evening revealed that revenue collected by the city income tax department for the first quarter of this year was $53,568.46.

This amount was collected from Jan. 1 to March 31, inclusive.

Auditor Coyne's report included comparative figures for 1962 and 1963. Employers' withholding tax in the first quarter of this year amounted to $42,781.92; in the corresponding period of last year, the amount was $37,050.73.

Income tax of business and industry in 1963's first quarter was $5,174.72; in the corresponding three months of 1962, $3,952.53. Individual income tax returns to the city in this year's opening quarter totaled $5,611.82; in the

The Meaning of the Resurrection:

God's Gracious Gift Through Christ

EDITOR'S NOTE—Human life exists in space and time. But does it continue to exist beyond space and time—after what we know as death? Viewing this question as a problem in logic, the Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Kepler outlines three philosophical arguments and possible answers. This is an excerpt from Dr. Kepler's book, "The Meaning and Mystery of the Resurrection," published by Association Press and copyrighted by the National Board of YMCAs. It is the third in a series of five articles.

By DR. THOMAS S. KEPLER

Modern Christian man who believes in the continuity of life beyond the experience of death, whether it be that of the immortality of the soul or the resurrection of the body, resorts to a number of solid arguments to establish his faith.

Mainly he looks at the nature of God, called "Father" by our Lord, whose qualities of mercy and wisdom make it obligatory for God never to annihilate the immortal nature of his children. If this God is both moral and full of grace, immortality is a necessary postulate.

Secondly, the experience of the human race, especially as seen through expressions of the great world religions, has shown the universal belief and hope of man's eternal nature. Different religious cultures hold diverse views of life after death; but the common belief and hope are nevertheless there.

The conservation of values in the universe is a third argument which has convinced some of life's eternal continuity.

If energy is conserved in the universe, how much more necessary is it that minds of men be conserved, if this be a rational universe, runs the argument. Especially if the universe is encompassed by the Spirit of God, such a preservation of values in terms of personalities is pre-supposed. If man, after his years of struggle to achieve purpose and meaning, is destroyed at death, one could only cry out, "What infinite waste!" Hence from the purpose of man's creation is deduced the assurance of his immortality.

ALONG WITH THE arguments of God's merciful purpose for man making immortality obligatory, the Christian holds the resurrection of Jesus in the New Testament as his cardinal argument for belief in life after death. For many this argument is all-sufficient for faith in life continuing beyond the grave.

As modern man speaks of "life after death," he occasionally uses terms such as "immortality" and "resurrection" as synonyms, employing them interchangeably. The two terms, however, in their original usage have different connotations.

"Immortality" belongs to Greek thought and relates to the fact that the soul continues its existence apart from the body after the body dies. The soul belongs to the eternal world, while the body belongs to the temporal world.

Immortality is thus not so much a gift from God as an accomplishment of man and deals with man's emancipation from his temporal body. Hence "immortality" is not a term used in the New Testament, for the focusing point of New Testament thought is that of the bodily "resurrection" of Jesus, not the mere survival of his soul after his bodily death.

THE RESURRECTION of Jesus and of "everyman" is a gift of God, who in the life beyond the grave gives man another body, namely one that is "glorified" or "spiritual." New Testament thought never conceives man's continuity beyond the grave apart from some kind of "body."

Immortality and the resurrection have one characteristic in common, according to Ian T. Ramsey:

"At the outset let us recognize that all doctrines of a future life, whatever their variety, are alike in one important respect. They all arise as so many versions of one answer to a general logical problem which everyone who formulates religious language must face. The problem is this. In acknowledging any religious topic whatever, we acknowledge something which exceeds spatio-temporal."

The resurrection of Jesus as a "mystery" left its influence upon men living in the spatio-temporal world of Jesus' day. In the centuries which followed, however, it was an event which was grasped by "faith-knowledge" rather than by empirical knowledge.

MEN THEMSELVES do not contain the quality of deathlessness, but must receive it as a gift from God if they are to overcome the destructive power of death (1 Cor. 15:53-4). Jesus Christ's death and resurrection have shown man a hope and a way by which the corruption of his human life has been effectively overcome (1 Tim 1:10; Rom. 11:7).

While the Christian man to a large degree "earns" the award of eternal life by asserting his faith in Christ, the greater meaning for man's inheritance of eternal life is through God's grace extending him this gift.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hiner brought the youths, and Pvt. Miller of Columbiana home.

Salineville Legion Post Files Appeal

LISBON — An appeal has been filed in Common Pleas Court by the American Legion Post of Salineville from its license suspension by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

The Salineville post on June 16, 1961, was charged with a pin ball machine violation.

On March 28 its license was suspended for 70 days, from April 11 to June 20.

Atty. Charles T. Kaps of Columbus, representing the post, has asked for a stay of suspension order, claiming that unless the court grants the stay, the post will suffer undue hardship and damages to its business and property.

ATTORNEY FACES CHARGE

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Edgar Reed, 43-year-old former New York attorney who now lives here, is to get a hearing in Licking county Common Pleas Court next Tuesday on a second-degree manslaughter charge.

The grand jury indicted Reed Tuesday on the charge stemming from a traffic accident last Saturday night in which Clarence Scott, 36, of near Zanesville was killed. Police said Reed's car apparently veered left of center and caused the head-on crash.

Jenkins Quits Highway Dept. Design Post

Robert Jenkins, design and planning engineer for the State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, has submitted his resignation, effective Monday, to accept a post with a consulting engineering firm.

Jenkins, who worked in the division office for 12 years, will take a post with the firm of W. E. Quicksall and Associates of New Philadelphia. Quicksall, head of the firm, is a former division engineer.

Jenkins will be replaced by Sherman S. Price of Dover, for the last four years preliminary design engineer in the division office. Price has been with the highway department 30 years. Before assuming his present post, he was the division's chief design engineer.

Ursu May be Moved

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the New Philadelphia office confirmed that consideration has been given to transferring John Ursu for the department in Columbiana County, to a new post in Belmont County.

The Division 11 spokesman said a $6 million project is underway in Belmont County without a registered engineer in charge. Ursu has been to New Philadelphia to discuss the proposed change with the construction engineer's office "but nothing definite has been done yet," the spokesman said.

Ursu was a Democratic candidate for county engineer about two years ago.

In connection with a recent series of changes in area highway department personnel, Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, declared that they were motivated by politics as a result of the change-over from a Democratic to a Republican administration in January.

Gosney said he will question the recent appointment of Chester R. Whitehouse of East Palestine as county maintenance superintendent, replacing James Deluce of Salem, who became a labor foreman.

Although the post given Whitehouse is under civil service the East Palestine man has violated regulations by continuing to serve as Council president in his home town and by remaining as a GOP candidate for a new term, Gosney charged.

SENTENCED FOR ASSAULT

LISBON — Roy Livingood, 26, Kensington, Tuesday was given a 90-day suspended jail sentence by County Judge James R. MacDonald for assault and battery on his wife, Arlene. Mrs. Livingood filed the charges. Livingood also must pay $10.50 in costs.

CLAIMS SPEED RECORD

CLEVELAND (AP)— American Airlines claimed a speed record of 3 hours, 4 minutes and 57 seconds between Los Angeles and Cleveland for one of its jet airliners Tuesday. The old record was 3 hours and 16 minutes, the company said. The highest ground speed was 760 miles an hour.

Princess Beatrix to Visit U.S.

By NEL SLIS

THE HAGUE (AP) — The princess will be different on this visit to the United States.

Four years ago Crown Princess Beatrix confessed to newsmen during a tour of New York: "My hands tremble when I read a speech."

Now she's a self-confident, poised young woman. Outwardly at least, there is nothing jittery these days about the future Dutch queen when she makes public appearances.

On this trip she'll visit Japan, stop briefly at Hawaii, and then go on to the United States and Canada. She's resuming a trip cut short last year by the death of her grandmother, the late Queen Wilhelmina.

Loves To Travel

Beatrix is keenly interested in foreign lands and peoples, and like her father, Prince Bernhard, she loves to travel.

On the eve of her departure, she ordered a briefing at her home for a small group accompanying her to Japan and astounded them with her knowledge of the history, culture and religions of this country.

She takes pain in studying the problems of developing countries and sponsors European youth groups which prepare for work in the newly independent countries of Asia and Africa.

Apart from a luncheon with President Kennedy in Washington on April 18, she will devote much time in the capital studying the set-up of the American Peace Corps.

Moves Into Own Palace

Since she successfully completed her law studies at Leyden University 1½ years ago, Beatrix has shown great interest in European institutions and made working visits to the European Parliament in Strassbourg, NATO headquarters in Paris, European Common Market headquarters in Brussels and the coal and steel community in Luxembourg.

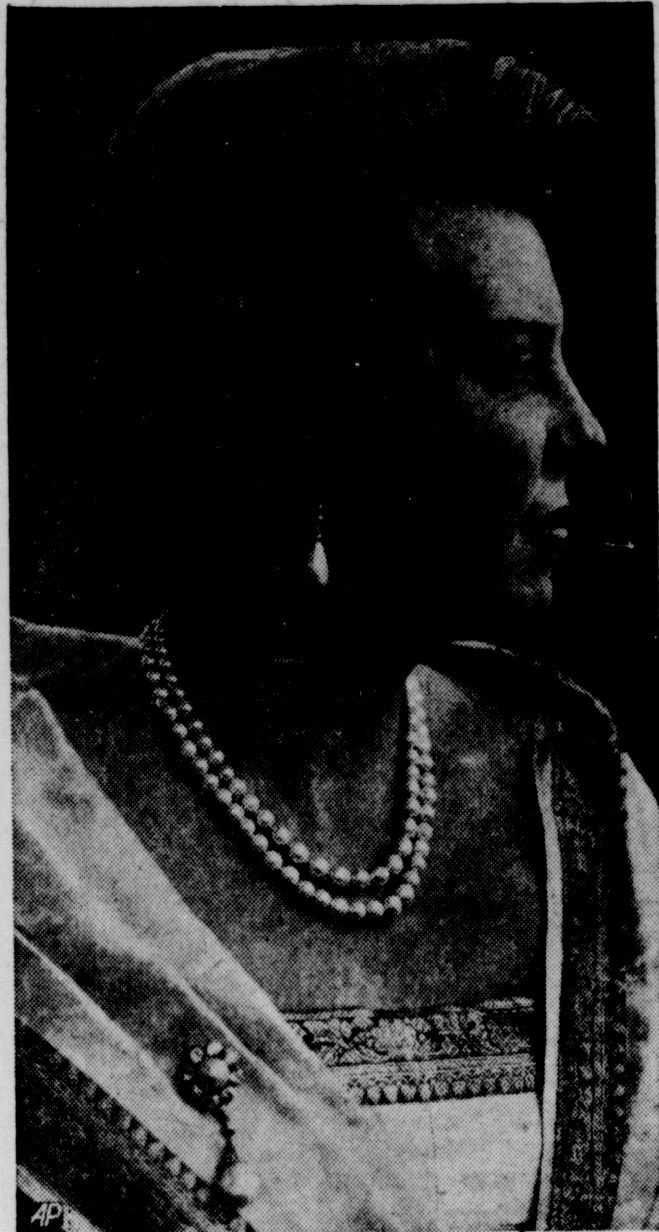

Early this year the princess moved from the royal palace of her parents into her private a.250 acre property, an enchanting octagonal castle, called "Drakestein" (Dragon-stone). It is surrounded by a moat and Holland's greenest parks. She runs her own modest royal household but drops in occasionally at her former home, the nearby Soestdyk Royal Palace.

Two weeks ago Holland's blue-eyed "Princess Smile" was hostess at a house-warming party for some 20 good friends. She showed herself disarmingly proud of her own home which she furnished entirely to her own taste, antique hunting whenever she found time.

Romance?

If there is any romance in her life, it is deeply shrouded. A romance with a fellow-student, commoner Bob Steensma, reportedly did a quiet death.

Steensma, son of a notary public in Eindhoven, dated the princess for some time. About the prospect of their marrying, government officials pronounced: "Princess Beatrix knows better."

cess for some time. About the prospect of their marrying, government officials pronounced: "Princess Beatrix knows better."

A few years before while on a tour of the United States Prince Bernhard told American reporters that his daughter could marry any man she loved so long as he was a decent person and she was really in love with him.

Beatrix is described by those close to her, as a practical, enterprising young woman who efficiently divides her interests between fun and work. She likes sailing in her yacht "Groene Draeck" (Green Dragon), is a fair skier and horsewoman but drives her Swedish Saab car very fast.

In Japan the princess will be received by Emperor Hirohito and tour the country for 10 days. Her main interest will be in the life of Japanese youth and students.

Her visit to the United States will be of a more private character, spending three days in San Francisco meeting old friends and sight-seeing before proceeding to Washington.

Friends say she is much looking forward to being briefed on American Peace Corps activities and hopes to meet as many officials and other personalities as possible at the three dinners Ambassador Herman Van Royen has arranged for her.

A member of her suite said: "Beatrix asks pertinent questions and knows what she is talking about."

In New York she will meet United Nations Secretary-General U Thant. She will spend the last few days of her trip in Ottawa with her old time student friend, Baroness Renee Roell, now Mrs. Bradbrooke-Smith, wife of a Canadian civil servant.

Beatrix will be home just in time to participate in the 53rd birthday celebration of her mother, Queen Juliana.

It's Contagious, We Hope

Several years ago the Retail Merchants Association promoted a "New Look" campaign for the downtown business district.

The motive was to ignite a few fires of civic pride among businessmen to fix up, paint up and modernize their properties. The drive was not without tangible results, for a number of merchants and property owners did improve their buildings, both in exterior and interior refurbishing. Quite a few of the stores along State St. and Broadway were made more attractive with new facades and also changes inside where, customers felt more inclined to shop.

Since that time, there have been a few notable improvements to some of the downtown structures but still others are badly in need of a face-lifting. Moffett's Men's Wear and Books Shoes have just unveiled a new store front which reaches three stories high, certainly an improvement that deserves community commendation. Others within the past year have been carried out by Haldi's shoe store, Walker's shoes, the Farmers Bank, Strouss' new appliance center and Lozier Caplan's law office.

Let's hope that it is contagious and other property owners do likewise. In one particular case of neglect, the threat of court condemnation proceedings might be the only approach to obtaining needed repairs.

On the whole, Salem merchants enjoy a much better business climate than some in other communities because they are bonded by a close association in civic and mercantile endeavors and because their public-spirited dedication demands that the Salem business district be second to none. And, with new industries coming to the city, it will grow.

Nothing Drastic Called For

Knowledgeable denizens of Wall Street have declined to make hasty comments on the Securities and Exchange Commission's first section of a report on the securities market.

Being knowledgeable and cautious, they wanted to read the first installment of the SEC's findings closely before they committed themselves for, against, or neutral.

Apparently what they are going to find in the voluminous first section and perhaps in the other sections to come later is that SEC has nothing drastic in mind for the securities market.

It is not going to cut off one leg above the knee, remove a stomach, excise a deep-rooted malignancy, or perform cranial surgery.

But it has its eye on tonsils, adenoids, fatty tumors, bone deformities, skin blemishes, facial twitches and limps. Some may require minor surgery. Others can be cured with therapy. Some are psychomatic and will require a change of attitude.

Medication will have to be employed.

There will be further tests and examinations. A pair of new glasses and a hearing aid are indicated. It will be necessary to see the dentist and look into the possibility of specially designed shoes. Diet will be important. The patient will have to give up some of his bad habits.

In other words, the securities market will stand a lot of attention, according to the SEC. It will need to think of itself as being under a doctor's care, though still ambulant and active.

Nothing drastic is contemplated—no major surgery. But by the time the patient has gone through what is ahead of him if he wants to avoid major trouble, he may wish he could have consolidated his problems and got rid of them at one swoop.

This is what securities marketers will conclude before they come to the end of the 30 proposals for improvements in a report that will be harder going for them than anything they've ready recently—and this is only the first of a series!

There Are Times When You Wonder

Secretary of State Rusk has spoken forthrightly on the foreign aid appropriation, perhaps too forthrightly for the good of the cause.

What sounded to congressional skeptics like a ploy to color them red in the New Frontier coloring book may backfire. Secretary Rusk says nothing would please the Communists more than "to see the Yanks go home."

It isn't the purpose of foreign-aid cutting to make the Yanks go home. The purpose is to keep the Yanks from looking like fools by giving money to people who don't deserve it and don't know what to do with it.

It is to convince foreigners proverbially careful with their own money that Americans have returned to a state of financial responsibility after behaving irresponsibly.

It is to show the world that Congress is capable of taking advantage of the two findings in the Clay report, that the United States should tighten up all of its foreign aid spending and discontinue some of it entirely.

Furthermore, there is a question about the threadbare argument that a thing must be done thus and so in the United States because to do otherwise would please the Russians. This has been used as a crowbar on everything from education to religion, from civil defense to national defense, from foreign aid to poor relief.

It has been over-used. Russians do not make lists of things that would please them if the United States did them. They do not share their innermost hopes with Americans.

The argument invariably is misused to advance the interests of someone in the United States, not to advance the interests of the Soviet Union.

Wouldn't it be likelier that the Soviet Union secretly prays right now for the United States to dissipate what is left of its gold reserve by failing to slash its foreign aid appropriation?

Winners Two-Fold

Salem High School musicians and Junior High science students are to be commended for their achievements in separate weekend events at Kent State University.

Competing in the Northeastern Ohio Solo and Ensemble contest, the high school musical group won six top superior ratings. The junior scientists' exhibits brought home two awards of superior, 19 excellent and 17 good.

Aside from the honors won, the boys and girls have assimilated knowledge and skills that no one can take from them. They are winners, in more ways than one.

After Vacation

Early vacationers now are coming back from their adventures full of energy and new outlooks. This will serve notice on them they had better be careful.

The churlish attitude I am going to describe is shared by the great majority of my fellow human beings.

We do not want either the overall picture or a mouse-eye view of what happened on your vacation. If we want to know whether you enjoyed it, we'll ask you. If you say you enjoyed it, that's enough. No gab.

If you didn't enjoy it, say so. We can understand. We, too, have been on vacations we didn't enjoy. You can't win them all.

The important thing to bear in mind about your vacation when it's over is that you are back in the presence of your working associates. You are among the people who know you best. Don't give them fudge. And skip the facts.

Your working associates grew accustomed to your absence. They grew accustomed to the absence of your face. They did not pine away with longing.

They did not miss the daily accounts of your troubles and symptoms. They enjoyed not having to cover up for your bloopers. Everything you have come to mean to them they enjoyed doing without for a few weeks.

They are bone-weary and bored. They are ready for their own vacations and have been since two weeks after they came back from their vacations last year. You have contributed to their exhaustion.

In their condition, nothing is harder for them to bear than the sight of a happy face and a bouncy disposition. They are as ouchy as a grouch before coffee.

Not only do they not want to hear what you have been doing the last few weeks; they do not want to be reminded that the last few weeks existed.

They do not want to see any photographs or mementoes. They do not want to hear observations about fauna, flora, social customs, the floridity of the local sin, the floridity of the local water, the rate of exchange, what you are, or who you met who was married to the sister of a fellow who once lived in Punnasatwney.

They do not want to look at any accordion postcard collections or grubby pawfuls of artifacts. They do not want to see your sunburn, attend your lectures, or hear about the mishap to your luggage.

Just slip quietly back into the groove from which you won't be missed when you are gone and keep quiet. In the natural course of events you will encounter wisecrackers who will say they didn't know you were away. Pay no attention.

Everybody knew you were away. We counted the days—no till you came back but while you weren't here. It was the best part of your vacation -- your not being here.

Let it lie there. Don't stir up anything. It will take a while to get accustomed to you again. See. Don't make it harder than necessary, please.

Cuban Regime Must Be Overthrown From Inside

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Strangely enough, a comprehensive plan that could really help to overthrow Castro and liberate Cuba has never been formally presented to the world by the United States.

In conformity with international law, and without involving in any way the use of American troops or invading armies from the outside, a plan could be devised that would appeal today to every man and woman on the island of Cuba. The expression of their concerted will could end the Castro regime.

The plan would cost money—maybe a half-billion dollars a year for five years or more. But that's a lot less expensive than the loss of human lives even in a "limited war." Besides, it could hardly provoke that awful "nuclear war" which is so often cited as the reason for American forbearance, if not "timidity."

The "liberation" plan would require, first of all, the appointment by President Kennedy of a special commission of Americans familiar with the economic capacity and potential of Cuba.

The commission would make a detailed report recommending a broad-scale program for the rehabilitation of Cuba. This would spell out exactly how many new jobs would be created and what the probable range of wages would be for various types of workmen in Cuba.

THE PROGRAM would, of course, be basically agricultural and would outline the ways by which the whole Cuban farm industry could be rehabilitated and what this could mean to the average farmer. Cost figures, however, would be included for each segment of the economy.

The whole thing is in line with the fundamental principles of the Alliance for Progress scheme that has been so widely publicized.

When the "liberation plan" for Cuba is ready for announcement, it can be turned over to the U.S. Information Agency and its numerous outlets for radio broadcasting.

A detailed report, covering as many phases of Cuban economic life as possible, should be presented in Spanish to the Cuban people. It should be expressed in the simplest phrases, so that the average person in Cuba could quickly grasp what is really meant.

The mere announcement of the plan would cause a sensation inside Cuba, and the news of it would spread quickly over the island by word of mouth.

It will be asserted, the Cuban army has been trained by the Soviets, and is estimated at a strength of about 200,000. No revolutionist group is strong enough, it will be contended, nor in possession of adequate arms to do the job of defeating the Castro army.

This kind of argument assumes that a revolution in Cuba has to start with an organized revolutionary movement of substantial size. Actually, the most successful and far-reaching revolutions against autocracy in Europe and Latin America and Asia in recent years have come from inside the armed forces.

IN CUBA, the 200,000-man army is an integral part of a large population, and its members have relatives and friends throughout the island.

They are all aware of the suffering that prevails and the hopelessness of the future under Castro.

Given a chance to rescue their countrymen, this same standing army could quickly take charge and get rid of Castro. A whole army can suddenly shift its allegiance at the behest of a few officers.

Unfortunately, in recent months the Washington government's policies have created the impression inside Cuba that the United States is afraid to give Cubans any substantial help.

It's true that more than $50 million was raised to ransom the patriots who invaded Cuba in the Bay of Pigs episode, but the Cuban people now have been told that no raiders are to be permitted to go from American shores into Cuba. All this implies that there will be no help of a military nature forthcoming, either directly or indirectly.

It creates discouragement and certainly doesn't make Cubans feel they will be helped if they do rise against Castro.

THE ONLY WAY to take over the government of Cuba is from within and this depends on an aroused and unified public sentiment. Since economic difficulties are the most pressing at present, it is logical to expect that the Cuban people will be attracted by the publicized pledges of financial and economic assistance from the United States which the proposed plan would give them.

It would mean to them a chance for the free education of their children. It would open up a new era of hope for everybody.

As every individual translated the American economic plan into what it would mean to him and his family—the chance to earn decent wages and have a free government—public sentiment under a barrage of publicity would grow to such an extent that thousands in the army would themselves privately embrace it and seek ways to get a new government so that the American plan could be put into effect.

Without any plan at all for the future, and without a concrete offer of assistance of any kind from the United States—except some vague phrases in official utterances—the people of Cuba, and particularly the 200,000 men in the Cuban army, can see no future for their country.

That's why a plan that is repeated over the radio day after day could become the very weapon that would get rid of Castro as well as the Soviet troops.

The revolution would restore Cuba's place in the organization of American states and give it an opportunity to become a participant with the other Latin-American countries in the Alliance for Progress.

Having a Little Difficulty With the Masterpiece

The Railroads' Problem

By VICTOR RIESEL

KANSAS CITY, MO. This is being written in the dome car of the Santa Fe's crack train, "The Chief." In harmony with the whirling wheels as I roll westward, there is the steady hum, like an old tune, of the questions: Will there be a crippling national will there be paralyzing second mail strike; next June? After discussions in the nation's railroad capitals the report here must be — yes, if the lines go through with what is their absolute right under the Supreme Court decision and gradually end all 40,000 locomotive firemen jobs on freight trains and in railroad yard service.

If there is compromise there will be no strike. President Kennedy's three-man emergency board is supposed to be a fact-finding commission. But everybody knows the facts. Privately Mr. Kennedy has asked the board to mediate a compromise. Where it's possible?

SPECIALISTS on the side of the five operating unions point to freight trains which are pulled by more than one oil-burning Diesel locomotive. Further west, when the big, fast through-freights reach the mountain grades, I was told there are sometimes as many as 14 such locomotives pulling a long train.

Across the United States the average is three locomotives. Many times four are hooked up. Single units are used in arid and for local freight runs.

These union experts will argue that the fireman is needed to check such hook-ups of three to 14 locomotives if there is difficulty. The engineer cannot leave his cab, they say. Thus, though there is no longer any old-fashioned open-mouthed furnace to stoke, the fireman's spot itself should be a permanent one on such runs.

This would mean that thousands would keep their jobs and be replaced when they retire or quit, or die, or are discharged for cause.

Under the present ruling the railroads have the right to lay off some 13,000 younger firemen and then wipe the job itself out. As for the other 27,000 firemen, they have a guarantee of lifetime jobs—but not necessarily as firemen.

THE RAILROADS do not have to replace them as they retire or pass on. The issue then is whether or not there actually will be a permanent category of freight train firemen or whether it will disappear.

If it looks like the job slot will disappear, it looks like there will be a strike.

Listening to a discussion of railroad laws is like breaking in on conversationalists using the jargon of abstract astralmathematics. But in essence the unions of on-train workers say there are still other areas of compromise.

These unions want some work rules changes themselves. They want a six, instead of an eight-hour day at no reduction in pay.

On a six-day week schedule this would give them a 36-hour week. The railroads say that if a man finishes his day's run in six hours, he should put the other two hours in at straight time in the yards.

The unions want overtime for the extra two hours. They also want time-and-a-half pay for holidays, which they do not get now.

They want special pay for the seventh day. They want reimbursement for food and lodgings if they are forced to stay overnight at the end of a run.

THEY WANT additional pay for split shifts on short turn-arounds—not only on commuter runs but if they take a train out in the morning and then return with another late in the day.

On all these issues there will be behind-the-scenes bargaining in Chicago and Washington. The railroads, with the weight of a presidential board's finding behind them, will try to stand firm.

Their spokesmen say they are sacrificing much on yielding to the theory of "attrition."

This means that they have guaranteed the retention of tens of thousands of railroad men for life. They don't want to guarantee the permanency of job classifications, too.

They know there will be mergers and more technological improvements. But they point to something known in the business as the 1936 Washington Agreement. This was signed by the carriers and unions ranging from locomotive engineers to masters, mates and pilots (rail tug men).

Under this pact, which is to be used as a guideline, the roads can shift men — but, for example, if a railroad worker has to sell his home suddenly under a loss, the company must reimburse him for the difference.

THE LINES pay for shifting the worker, his family and his turn-of-life. This includes living expenses for him and his family and actual wages lost.

The carriers even protect the shifting worker from all loss and cost involved in breaking an unexpired lease on a home. These are just a few of what the railroads call financial burdens unique to their field.

The rails feel they've given all they can. The unions say there must be compromise. The President will pressure. The emergency board will argue and cajole. If there is give and take, there will be no strike. If not...

Teasing Problem

Dear Ann: I came here recently from Ireland and am faced with a problem. I am staying in the home of American friends and am encountering, for the first time, the American tea bag.

What is a person supposed to do with the tea bag after it has been used? It seems uncouth to place the soggy, disreputable thing on the saucer. One cannot leave it in the cup as the tea becomes too brisk.

I have searched for the answer in books on American etiquette but can find nothing. Can you help? — ISLE OF ERIN.

Dear Erin: Tea bags are a great convenience, but guests should not have to figure out what to do with them.

The tea bags should be used in the kitchen and then remove. No guest should be burdened with this do-it-yourself project.

She's No Baby

Dear Ann: I am 13 years old. I don't smoke, swear, rat my hair, wear white lipstick or eye-shadow, sass my teachers or stay out late. All I want is a little privacy in my own home.

The family bathroom is on the other side of my room, so everybody walks right through at all hours of the day or night. Nobody ever knocks. My brothers and my father always manage to break in when I am dressing or undressing and it is very embarrassing.

If I could have just a little hook on the door to use only when I need privacy I would be grateful. My father says this is foolish. He claims I am still a baby and am making a big fuss over nothing. Mom said to write to you and get your opinion. Please say yes. — OPEN HOUSE.

Dear Open House: As a matter of courtesy no one should open a bedroom door and walk in without first knocking.

Since your bedroom is in the direct line of family traffic you should have the little hook on your door to insure privacy. A 13-year-old girl is no baby.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelop.

New Insect Bulletin

The Ohio Agricultural Extension Service has announced the publication of a new bulletin on controlling insects of field crops, livestock and stored grain.

The bulletin, available at county Extension offices, lists the different insecticides to use against insects which attack corn, legumes, small grain, vegetables, fruits, stored grain, dairy cattle, beef cattle, hogs, sheep, and poultry. In addition there are control recommendations for insects which attack humans (mosquitoes and chiggers) and those which attack pets (fleas and dog ticks).

Co-authors of the publication are R. P. Holdsworth and B. D. Blair, Ohio State University Extension entomologists. In discussing insecticides, they have used trade names of products in order to simplify the information presented.

For Spittlebug Control

The annual spring battle between farmers and spittlebugs is about to begin. The farmers are sure to win—if they use the proper insecticides in the proper amounts at the proper time.

Spittlebugs emerge in the spring as orange bugs about the size of a pinhead. They attack clover and alfalfa fields and where they are prevalent, they can reduce hay and pasture yields from a fourth to a half.

Two chemicals recommended for control are lindane and methoxychlor. Farmers should apply one of these insecticides about a week after spittlebugs first hatch, usually when the crop is about six inches high, says B. D. Blair, Ohio State University extension entomologist. The material should be used with at least 10 gallons of water to the acre.

Blair suggests farmers use lindane at a rate of 1 pint of 20 per cent emulsion concentrate to the acre. The material can be applied when plant growth is 2 inches high. Crops treated with lindane should not be grazed or harvested within 30 days after treatment, Blair warns. Research has indicated, he says, that harvesting treated crops sooner may result in lindane residues on the hay. Blair also warns against using lindane in sprayers with felt screens, or with wire screens of less than 100 mesh.

Methoxychlor should be applied at a rate of 2 quarts of 25 per cent emulsion concentrate to the acre. Animals should not be pastured, or the crop harvested, within seven days after treatment.

Buy Fertilizer by Analysis

Fertilizer should be selected by its analysis rather than by the size of the bag or the price, says K. L. Bader, assistant professor of agronomy at Ohio State University. The analysis (usually given as 10-10-10, 15-10-5, etc.) is the percentage of weight of the nutrients — nitrogen, phosphorus (P2O5) and potash (K2O).

Price is largely determined by the source of the nitrogen. As a rule the organic nitrogen or slow-acting fertilizers cost more than the high nitrogen "farm grade" fertilizers because of the processing required. In either type, if nitrogen amounts are equal, there is no difference in effect when properly used. The high nitrogen fertilizers, however, must be applied with special care to prevent grass burns.

Bunker Hill

Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Bunker Hill Methodist church has postponed the April meeting at the church until April 18 because of observance of Maundy Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Stanley returned Thursday from a guided tour in Washington, D.C., New York City and through the United Nations Building. The tour was conducted by the Farm Bureau Association with 100 members from Ohio attending.

MEMBERS OF THE RUTH Esther Missionary Society of the Church of the Nazarene met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Lyman Miller of Buckeye Ave.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Donald Hough, and scriptures were read by Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin. Mrs. Glenn Thorne and Mrs. Bruce Palmer presented prayers.

A book report on the Philippines, "No Respector of Persons," was given by Mrs. William Tullis.

Following the program members sewed on bedding to be sent missions in the field.

The 17 members and one guest, Mrs. Thomas Summerson, president of the church missionary organization, were served luncheon by the hostess.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. May 2, in the home of Mrs. David Hough of Fair Ave.

SIXTEEN MEMBERS of the Salem Bird Study Club met Friday evening at the Memorial Building, with Edmund Bailey presiding.

William Baker reported on a hike March 23 to Evans Lake.

Mrs. Bess Cline, program chairman, introduced Ambrose Duncan who reported on the woodpecker species.

Mrs. Cline reviewed three articles on birds from current issues of the National Geographic.

A film, "Flight of the Sea Birds," was enjoyed.

The club will have a bird hike at 7 p.m. Daylight Saving Time April 28, east of Lisbon.

Members will have a coverdinner May 4 at the Diehl Lake Club House.

MRS. C. WILLIAM PAXTON was a guest when members of Club Nine met recently in the home of Mrs. Mary Lou Leaf.

Mrs. Andres Vuksta, Mrs. Robert Zimmerman and Mrs. Paxton were prize winners at "500."

The group will meet again May 1 in the home of Mrs. James Roberts of Damascus.

MRS. MIKE OANA of the Depot Rd. and Mrs. Torch Nedelka of 240 1/2 E. State St. participated in ceremonies at the Mayflower Hotel in Akron Saturday in which the AMVETS Silver Helmet awards, the highest which the World War II-Korea veterans' organization can bestow, were presented to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, AFL-CIO President George Meany, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, Dr. Winfred Overholser and the American Telephone and Telegraph.

Mrs. Oana is National Auxiliary president and Mrs. Nedelka, national corresponding secretary.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM Henry Baird of Duck Creek Rd., Patmos, were hosts to 18 members of the family and friends at dinner Sunday.

The event was a surprise housewarming for the hosts. Birthdays of Mrs. Baird and her granddaughter, Becky Baird, were celebrated and a bridal shower for Miss Ruth Baird, niece of the hosts and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Baird of Leetonia, was held.

Miss Baird will become the bride of Ronald Edgerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton of Leetonia, April 20.

Guests were present from Youngstown, Cleveland, Warren, Courtland, Leetonia and Salem. The afternoon was spent in visiting.

MRS. GARY MOFFETT of 1683 Southeast Blvd. entertained 16 members of the Gamma Gamma Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority Thursday evening, with Mrs. Robert Bailey as co-hostess.

Mrs. Bailey presided at the business portion of the meeting when standing reports were presented by Mrs. Calvin Sell, Mrs. Moffett, Mrs. Ralph Costlow, Mrs. John Alesi and Mrs. William Sheen.

Mrs. Wendell Church, Mrs. Alesi and Mrs. Costlow were appointed as a nominating committee to present a slate of officers for election at the May 2 meeting.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Here is an Easter tip: Make a hole in the large end of an egg about the size of your index finger. Remove the insides.

Wash the shells and save until you have a dozen. Fill with different colored gelatin and let set until firm.

Then peel and place on a bed of green colored coconut. Both young and old love this treat.

MRS. J. J. EXTON
DEAR FOLKS: Mrs. Exton caused so much steam in this home when her letter arrived that we couldn't wait to get to the kitchen to try it. It's terrific!

But take some advice from us. We learned the hard way. We found that you could make a smaller hole in the egg shell, and to harden so that if one does leak ... you won't have a mess to clean up. And believe it, gals, it's really a mess.

After our eggs congealed, we cracked the shell first (this is most important) and then held it under the hot water faucet for a few minutes so that the shell would get warm and the gelatin would loosen. Then we peeled the eggs and they were darling!

These not only make pretty desserts which could be topped or decorated with whipped cream, but can be used for salads when placed on a bed of lettuce and some mayonnaise. Even prettier ... when placed on a pineapple ring over which has been grated some cheese and then lay the egg on top of that! Looks like a real nest.

Another thing we tried when making the yellow filling, was adding pieces of pimento and chopped green olives and grate carrots before it was completely congealed. Oh ... it's wonderful. The colors show through and it looks as if the "eggs" are painted.

And you know that this idea doesn't have to be used only at Easter. The colored eggs are a tribute to any woman's table when placed around the edge of a big platter of potato salad which has been first trimmed with lettuce or parsley.

And you should see how they look around an ice-filled shrimp bowl! We covered the ice with some plastic wrap before putting these "eggs" around the edge of the ice bowl and found that the plastic wrap also prevented the ice from melting as fast ... yet, one still gets the full advantage of the ice itself.

So ... happy Easter to you and yours.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions, Answers

Q — About six weeks ago I had a "Pap" smear that showed suspicious cells. As a result I had a part of the uterine cervix removed. How can I be sure that cancer will not crop up in another part of the body.

A — Since cancer can crop up in any part of the body in anyone at any time, you can't be really sure. Cancer of the cervix, when treated early, is one of the forms of cancer that has a high percentage of cures.

Anyone who has had a cancer removed, however, should have a checkup two or three times a year to make sure there is no recurrence.

Q — I have been told that fat turns to sugar in the body. Is this true?

A — In the digestive tract, fats are split into fatty acids and glycerin. These products are promptly absorbed into the blood. The fatty acids are re-synthesized to make the fatty tissues deposited throughout the body.

The glycerin is stored in the liver, where it can be released as needed for energy. Glycerin is not, strictly speaking, a sugar, but it is closely related to the sugars and serves the same purpose in the body.

Q — What is the new drug that will dissolve cataracts?

A — The enzyme chymotrypsin is often used before a cataract is removed.

It greatly facilitates the operation by softening the fibers that attach the lens to the eyeball. It does not dissolve the cataract. The decision whether or not to use it rests with the surgeon.

Q — What is the cause of pityriasis rosea? How long does it last?

A — The cause of pityriasis is unknown. Without treatment it usually clears up in about seven weeks. A second attack is very rare. This suggests an immunity which would be characteristic of a virus of some kind, but if a virus is the cause it has yet to be isolated. With treatment, the condition should clear up in two or three weeks.

Q — What is the cause of severe itching in the last three or four months of pregnancy? Nothing I have tried gives any relief.

A — Itching is not usually a troublesome complication of pregnancy but, as with any form of itching, scratching is to be avoided as it tends to increase the itching and may damage the skin. Many remedies have been used to control itching. They range from such simple preparations as calamine lotion with phenol, to antihistamine tablets. Guanethidine, one of the newer drugs, stops itching but, because of its side effects, it should be taken only under the supervision of your doctor.

Dunn Named By Beaver Booster Club

George Dunn of Williamsport was elected president of the Beaver Local Booster Club at a meeting Tuesday at the high school.

Other officers elected are: James McLaughlin of Elkton, vice president; Mrs. Joe Hoppel of Hoppel's Corners, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary Berger of Pancake Hill, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gail Williams of Apple's Corners, treasurer; and Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers, publicity manager.

Trustees elected for two years are Steve Barborak of West Point, past president, Frank Copestick, Jr. of RD 3, Lisbon, and Robert Osborn of RD 2, East Liverpool.

Held over as trustees for another year are George Gaydos of Elkton, Leslie Jones of RD 3, Lisbon, Foyn Wright of RD 1, Rogers, and James Gerace of RD 3, East Liverpool.

A report of the Athletic Association Board meeting Monday revealed that a high school football budget of $7,000 has been appropriated for the 1963-64 season, with $1,633.00 of the total to be used for new equipment for the players.

Discussion was held on reconditioning the baseball field at the Beaver Local Public School. It was decided to move the portable backstop from the high school to the public school.

The matter of charging admission to baseball games and track meets was tabled.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Alilius reported on progress and tickets for the smorgasbord dinner April 20 at Beaver Local Public School. Serving will be from 5 to 7 p.m. Some tickets are still available for the event.

Bills of $22.50 were ordered paid. A special installation meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the high school.

North Georgetown Club to Incorporate

Donald Wutrick was named chairman of a committee Tuesday night to incorporate the North Georgetown Ruritan Club. Earl Wang and Earl Kitzmiller complete the incorporation committee.

The decision to incorporate the club was made at the home of vice-president John Risbeck. Present were president A. J. Pandin, Risbeck, treasurer Kitzmiller, secretary Clark Hahn, Clarence Motts, William Wolf, Herman Fryfogel, Don Wutrick and F. C. Wolf.

The group also voted to purchase a plaque to be presented to the member of the Knox Township Senior Citizens Club who has the most relatives at the Senior Citizens April 22 meeting.

It was announced that the annual chicken barbecue at the village pavilion will be held June 15.

The Ruritan's next regular meeting will be held April 25.

all-county school boards meeting which will be held April 18 at Wellsville and a five-board meeting (Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine and Wellsville) set for June 3.

Bills of $36,128.89 for salaries and $5,373.04 for supplies were ordered paid.

The board's next regular meeting will be May 7 at 8:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office.

Special Service Set By Methodist Church

A service of Holy Communion and reception of members will be observed Maundy Thursday by the congregation of the First Methodist Church with an organ prelude of Passion music presented by Homer Taylor at 7 p.m., and a special pre-service passion chorale, "O Sacred Head, Now Wounded" and "Christ, We Do All Adore Thee" by the Senior Choir.

The worship service will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the congregation participating in the ceremony of reception of adults and members of the preparatory class, followed by Holy Communion.

high school French and English teacher.

The board voted to include home economics and industrial arts instruction in junior high school beginning next fall. Currently boys or girls below ninth grade are not offered these subjects.

THE BOARD EXPRESSED consternation over the status of the septic tank construction at the new high school. The tank was to be installed by a company which had received a sub-contract from the plumbing and heating contractor, the Snyder Plumbing and Heating Co. of Massillon.

The Massillon firm filed bankruptcy this spring and the septic tank work came to a standstill. Thus far, only the forms have been erected for the installation, although the work was expected to be finished by May 15.

The plumbing and heating work which Snyder had begun is now progressing under the Standard Plumbing Co. of Canton, secured by a bonding company to complete the work.

THE BOARD AGREED TO offer summer school classes if sufficient interest is shown by students to warrant employing a teacher. Considerable interest has been expressed in history and typing. Last summer typing I was given.

In other business the board decided not to employ another cafeteria cook to replace the late Mrs. Camilla Baker until the fall term.

Granted authority to executive head Clinton Heacock to hire enumerators for the school census to be finished by May 30.

AUTHORIZED CLERK Rhea Emmons to apply for a $65,000 tax advance from the Mahoning County auditor to meet operating expenses, chiefly payroll.

Heard a request by bus driver Eldon Sanor for a leave of absence for the balance of the school year.

Adopted the 1963-64 school calendar of 180 school days extending from Sept. 3, 1963, to June 3, 1964.

Tabled action on a kindergarten program until a study is made of potential enrollment. A summer kindergarten was held last summer, but attendance was poor, due chiefly to transportation problems.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE of a scholarship granted to Mrs. Martha Wilson, American history and economics teacher, to participate this summer in an economic workshop, sponsored by the Industrial Information Institute, at Slippery Rock, Pa.

The board will convene in special session Tuesday night at 8 to give consideration to the purchase of movable equipment for the sewing machine area at the new high school and basketball equipment, including backboards.

tary chief, Gen. Singkapo. A commission attache made a fast trip to the Plaine Tuesday and reported that the fighting between neutralist and Pathet Lao forces had quieted down.

The commission plans to send a representative to the Plaine daily in an effort to prevent further outbreaks.

Repeated Pathet Lao attacks in the past 10 days forced neutralist troops of Gen. Kong Le to withdraw from the town of Xieng Khouang and retreat to the Plaine de Jarres, 120 miles north of Vientiane. The Pathet Lao already controls most of northern Laos. Neutralist and right-wing circles fear they may be getting ready to extend their hold.

A full-scale campaign by the Pathet Lao probably would mean a quick Red victory—rather than a long war on the Viet Nam pattern—unless the United States and its SEATO allies intervene with large numbers of their own troops.

The civil war which ended last year demonstrated that the right-wing army of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan was no match for the Pathet Lao. Resistance by Kong Le's badly outnumbered neutralist troops probably would be short.

Meeting in Paris, the eight SEATO allies made plans for a massive show of force in neighboring Thailand and the South China Sea in an effort to discourage Communist military adventures.

The SEATO plans call for allied troops to re-enter Thailand, which shares a 1,000-mile border with Laos, for ground maneuvers. They were there last year for similar "stop, look and listen" warnings to the Reds.

SEATO navies also scheduled massive air and sea training strikes in the South China Sea—the biggest ever held there—with the U.S. 7th Fleet heading a beefed-up task force.

the extension of Second St. to Pennsylvania Ave. providing the city will improve Second St. extension from the Jennings Ave. culvert to Pennsylvania Ave.

"We request from the city the abandonment of Stewart St. from Third St. to a point 50 feet south into our company property."

"Although this project will be a solution to a specific problem of our company, it is not intended to have only a selfish motive. We feel that the extension of Second St. to Pennsylvania Ave. will definitely provide an overall benefit to the city by enhancing the value of the city-owned Smith well field property for industrial development."

Accompanying the letter from Sekely was an estimate by Earl H. Newell and Sons, general contractors and engineers of Columbiana, showing that the alternate road into the Sekely plant from Second st. using blacktop paving instead of concrete would be $22,565.

Campbell Criticizes Overpass The letter from Robert W. Campbell of The People's Lumber Co. was critical of city officials, and referred to the overpass as "ill-planned."

Campbell wrote: "It has been publicly stated by the mayor and at least one member of City Council that they were interested in the welfare of businesses that are being adversely affected by the construction of the overpass. However, their actions do not seem to bear out these statements as we at the Peoples Lumber Co. have never had anyone connected with the city administration or any member of Council call on us to see what, if anything, could be done to help us with the problems that are created by the building of the overpass."

"The Peoples Lumber Co. was incorporated under the laws of Ohio in 1904, some 59 years ago, and has been in the present location for some 50 years. It is pretty hard to take the fact that we are being forced out of our present location by the construction of an ill-planned overpass, but what is even harder to take is the fact that there is no apparent concern on the part of the city administration or the City Council."

Campbell listed several questions regarding the construction of the overpass and the detouring of traffic while bridge construction is underway.

Council will hold a "committee-of-the-whole" meeting next Monday, beginning at 8:30 p.m., to consider the letters from Sekely and Campbell. (Council's next regular session will be Tuesday evening).

publican opposition to the legislation, declared he would have a lot to say about the bill and that his GOP colleagues would propose numerous amendments.

Prouty declined Mansfield's bid to put into effect a debate limitation agreement—the usual way to speed floor action. This requires unanimous consent.

Kennedy proposed the bill when Congress met in January as a partial solution to one of the nation's severe problems—the high rate of unemployment among youths in the 16-21 age bracket. About 700,000 of these were out of school and out of work last year.

The measure would operate through two programs—a federal youth conservation corps and a hometown public service corps.

The bill survived the first Republican move Tuesday, an attempt by Prouty to shunt it to the interior committee for as much as three weeks.

This was beaten 58 to 29 but it did not necessarily indicate eventual passage. Several Southern Democrats who voted against the move said they still would oppose the measure.

Then, apparently hoping to pick up a few votes, Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Stuart Symington, D-Mo., proposed a $20-million cut in the first-year authorization of $120 million. This easily carried 65-21.

The administration had announced that, in any event, it planned to ask only for $100 million for the initial year of the program.

FIREMEN ANSWER CALL

Firemen were called to the Isaly dairy store, 241 E. State St., at 7:56 p.m. Tuesday when a motor on a freezer began smoking. No damage was reported.

Car Upsets But Driver Walks Away

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol is investigating an accident in which a car operated by Howard L. Bush of 181 N. Market St., East Palestine, rolled over this morning at 3:55 on Route 14, about five miles east of Columbiana.

Bush left the scene of the mishap after he apparently failed to negotiate a bend in the highway. The vehicle was extensively damaged, but the extent of Bush's injuries, if any, is unknown.

The Patrol was seeking the motorist today to question him.

the true and solid peace of nations consists not in equality of arms but in mutual trust alone."

Writing as the "vicar on earth of Jesus Christ" and as "interpreter of the very profound longing of the entire human family," the pontiff beseeched "especially those who have the responsibility of public affairs to spare no labor in order to ensure that world events follow a reasonable and human course."

Pope John indicated he hoped the United Nations eventually might become a strong world authority. But he did not specifically mention what peace-keeping means it should have at its disposal, such as a police force.

He said: "A public authority having worldwide power and endowed with the proper means for the efficacious pursuit of its objective, which is the universal common good in concrete form, must be set up by common accord and not imposed by force."

But the pontiff said nations were "right in not easily yielding in obedience to an authority imposed by force, or to an authority in whose creation they had no part, or to which they themselves did not decide to submit by conscious and free choice."

Pope John said a supra-national world authority must be considered because national leaders in the modern world are "on a footing of equality" and are "no longer, capable of facing the task of finding an adequate solution to the problems."

E. Palestine Bank Gets New Cashier

EAST PALESTINE—Lester E. Hart, 37, formerly cashier of the Pickerington, O., Bank, has been named cashier and secretary of the First National Bank, succeeding Lloyd Lange who recently became executive vice president.

Mr. Hart will assume his duties May 1, and will be joined by his wife and two high school age children at the close of the current school term. He is a member of the Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge and Lions Club.

No Action Taken at Planning Meeting

No action was taken on whether to form an all-county planning commission or merely a regional unit when 18 persons attended a planning discussion Tuesday night at the Courthouse in Lisbon.

Floyd Lower, chairman of the county planning committee, presided.

Representatives were present from Salem, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Columbiana and other county subdivisions.

Proponents of forming an all-embracing commission are seeking cooperation in the venture from communities which already have planning committees.

Winona Fire Dept. Training Planned

WINONA—Fire Chief Joe Cooper of the Winona-Butler Fire Department announced that the department will hold special training sessions at the Winona Fire House for four consecutive Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. beginning this week.

All members and interested persons are urged to attend.

Deaths Funerals

Thomas S. Gibbs

Thomas S. Gibbs, 86, of 323 E. Robinson Ave., Barberton, formerly of 688 N. Ellsworth Ave., died yesterday.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home.

Mrs. John Liber

Mrs. Selma R. Liber, 78, died of complications at 11:55 a. m. Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Berger of Winona, with whom she had made her home for seven years. She had been in failing health for several years.

Born Feb. 14, 1885, in Bloomfield, she was the daughter of James and Emogene Palmer Ramsdell. She attended Winona Methodist Church where she was a member of the Salt of the Earth Sunday School Class.

Her husband, John, died in 1957. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Berger and Mrs. Russell Batman of Berlin Center; three sons, Raymond of Lake Milton and Melvin and Carl of Hanoverton; one sister, Mrs. Julia Weaver of Fremont; one brother, Harley Ramsdell of Toledo; 12 grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren. One son, Wilfred, preceded her in death in 1955.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Friday at the Stark Memorial with Rev. William A. Atchison of the Gurney Friends Church of Winona officiating. Interment will be in Wooddale Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Memorial from 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday.

Leetonia Board to Convene Tonight

Renewal of teacher contracts will be the main item of business on the agenda of the Leetonia School District Board of Education tonight.

Other business includes the purchase of a new school bus and receipt of bids on maintenance and landscaping work at Orchard Hill, South Side and Washingtonville Schools.

A school census taker and a part-time custodian for Orchard Hill School will be named.

Executive head Victor Wood will present a report on the status of the tree planting adjacent to Orchard Hill School.

With The Patients

Mrs. John L. Barnes of 1040 Maple St., has returned home from the Cleveland Clinic Hospital where she had been a surgical patient since March 26.

James Stoffer, 15, son of Leland Stoffer of RD 2, Beloit, was treated and released at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday for a scalp laceration received while practicing on a trampoline at school.

Smith Twp. Trustees To Treat Dusty Roads

SEBRING—Smith Township trustees last night promised to take measures to keep down the dust on dirt roads in the northwest part of the township, following recent complaints from the North Benton area.

William Campbell presided over the meeting in the absence of Clarence Watson, who is on vacation.

Township Clerk Harry Johnston reported that no more fire burning permits will be issued for the time being.

Farm Groups Hear Agricultural Engineer

LISBON—Ken Battles, agricultural engineer at Ohio State University, discussed farm and home building arrangements, remodeling and other agriculture engineering principals at the combined meeting of the Farm and Home Development and Farm and Home Management groups Tuesday evening in the county extension office. There were 24 in attendance.

Lunch was served.

Notes From City Council Meeting:

New Contract to Increase Gas Rate Here 2.8 Per Cent

The city's new rate contract with Ohio Fuel Gas Co., adopted last night by City Council, replaces a contract which expired Jan. 14.

The minimum charge for gas fuel usage is boosted from $2.40 to $3, and the bills of all other consumers are hiked 44 cents a month.

The ordinance providing for the new contract was passed with only one Councilman, Fred W. Koenreich, objecting. He declared that present business conditions do not warrant the over-all 2.8 per cent increase in cost of gas fuel usage.

Another ordinance passed Tuesday night permits City Solicitor Thomas Coe to settle the city's claim against Franklin Homes, Inc. for $500.

Franklin Homes went into receivership owing the city $1,000 for the erection and installation of street lights in 1957. Before the offer of a $500 settlement was made, Solicitor Coe had received and rejected on the part of the city an offer of a $335 settlement.

Notes To Create Fund

Another ordinance passed last night provides for the city's issuance of a note or notes in the principal sum of $5,000 in order to provide a fund for the meeting of the city's street and park department payroll.

The note or notes will be dated April 10, 1963, and bear interest at the rate of four per cent annum payable at maturity; the maturity date being May 10, this year, unless the note or notes are redeemed prior to May 10.

Another measure approved by Council last night authorizes Service Director James E. Feiler to enter into necessary agreement with the Ohio Edison Co. for the replacement and construction of power lines and poles on city property along the north side of W. State St. in conjunction with construction of the W. State St. overpass.

Other Council action Tuesday evening included:

Criticism by Councilman James Aldom of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce for not giving public acknowledgment of City Council's cooperation, when the C. of C.'s recent accomplishments were being cited at a Chamber luncheon meeting Monday;

Praise by Aldom of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for its sponsorship of Youth-in-Government Week by which 23 Salem High School seniors "took over" various municipal offices Tuesday;

Commendation by various councilmen of the manner in which the students served as counterparts to the city officials for one day;

Income Tax Warning Issued An announcement by City Solicitor Thomas Coe that there will be a crackdown of citizens delinquent in payment of city income tax;

The giving of second reading to an ordinance increasing the annual amount to be paid to the part-time or temporary help in the office of the city auditor;

The receiving of a petition signed by 80 residents of Southeast Blvd. for improvement of their street from E. State St. to Pershing Ave., which is immediately west of the Kroger parking lot;

The receiving of two claims, one for $50 and one for $36.92, against the city for damages suffered on city streets.

A report from Utilities Superintendent William Thompson, relayed by City Solicitor Coe, that requests and inquiries are being made by persons outside the city limits for city water service and

$15,750 Raised For Palestine Chair Firm

EAST PALESTINE—The campaign to raise $35,000 in working capital for the Pittsburgh Chair Co. here has been extended for the rest of the week.

The Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the drive, report $15,750 pledged to date.

The 80 employees of the firm, which has been in East Palestine for 26 years and are manufacturers of upholstered furniture, pledged $15,000 of the original $50,000 needed.

Crestview Sports Dinner Is Thursday

Awards will be presented to the outstanding football and basketball players of Crestview High School Thursday night at the second annual All-Sports banquet at the school. Cheerleaders will also receive recognition.

Don Gardner of Youngstown, WKBN sports director, will speak and Russell Coppock, president of the Fairfield-Waterford Boosters Club, which sponsors the event, will be toastmaster.

About 55 athletes under the tutelage of Football Coach David Habeger and Basketball Coach Bruce Weber will be introduced, with the stars singled out for special recognition.

School Executive head Joe Driscoll reports the public is invited to the banquet starting at 6:30 p.m. Each person is to bring covered dishes, including a vegetable and a dessert. Meat and other food will be furnished by the Boosters.

The Board of Education will meet after the banquet to set the 1963-64 school calendar.

Students began their Easter vacation at the close of school today. Classes will resume Tuesday.

Home Demonstration Groups Meet Tuesday

LISBON—Slides of Kenya, Africa, will be shown when the Fairfield Friendly Neighbors Demonstration Group meets Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Morris Kirk near Crestview school.

Members are asked to bring tape measures, knitting needles and patterns, crochet hooks and pins to be sent to Africa. Lunch will be served at Crestview school.

Furniture refinishing will be the project when the Hanover Township Home Demonstration Group meets Tuesday from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Dunganon Church. Leaders will be Margaret Delp and Anna Gruber.

LOSES BOND IN LISBON

LISBON—George K. House, 22, of 510½ W. Lincoln Way forfeited a $10 appearance bond Tuesday in Mayor Dean Stockman's court for "running" a traffic light. He was cited by the village police.

Paskals Greek Easter Dessert

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Russians of the Greek Orthodox faith celebrate their Easter more than a week later than we do.

One of the most famous of their traditional Easter desserts is Paska. It is made of sweet butter, cream cheese, pure extract of vanilla and fruits.

This version is very easy to make. When ingredients have been blended, turn into a 5½-inch new clay flower pot lined with three layers of cheesecloth and let chill for 8 hours or overnight.

The cloth and porous clay pot blot up excess moisture of the Paska, firming it.

PASKA

(Greek Orthodox Easter Dessert) (12 servings)
4 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese.

½ cup (1 stick) softened sweet butter, 2 teaspoons pure vanilla, extract, ½ teaspoon fresh lemon juice, ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup sour cream, 1 cup chopped blanched almonds, 1 cup diced mixed glaze fruit, 1 cup seedless raisins.

Beat together until fluffy cream cheese, butter and pure vanilla extract. Stir in lemon juice, sugar, sour cream, almonds, glaze fruit and seedless raisins. Line a clean clay flower pot with 3 layers of cheese cloth and pour mixture into it.

Place pot on a tray and chill 6 hours or overnight. Just before serving, turn out onto a serving tray. Remove cheese cloth.

Decorate as desired with whipped cream and fresh or glaze fruit.

Deerfield

Plans are underway for the annual combined Good Friday services to be held this year at the Friends Church at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Wade visited Sunday in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Purvins of Newton Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parkhill of Mapleton, Iowa, spent several days with her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice of Chester, W. Va. were callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Wade.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS of the Friends Church met recently at the home of Rev. Jones. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Sirenettes met at the home of June Batson who was re-elected president of the group. Ten members were present. Door prize was won by Janet Legroes. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Barbara Mix. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dotson of Elkton were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Flory to honor their daughter Glenda and Mr. Dotson for their birthdays.

Salem Whips Potters, Bengals In Triangular Meet

Quakers Garner 7 First Places

Locals Entertain Alliance Thursday

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

Garnering seven first places, Salem easily outclassed East Liverpool and Wellsville in a triangular track and field meet at Reilly Field Tuesday.

Only in one event, the pole vault, did the Quakers fail to score points, while rolling up 71. The Potters finished second with 43, and the Bengals were last with 36.

In the pole vault, Frank Fitch tied with four others at 9 feet, 6 inches and had to drop out. He had a sore back and pulled muscles in his leg.

Mobley of Wellsville and East Liverpool's Bowyer tied for first place in the event, with both boys clearing 10 feet.

THE QUAKERS got off to a fast start, winning the first five events, then completed the cold afternoon's action by capturing both relays.

There was only one double winner during the meet. Leyda of Wellsville copped the 180-yard low hurdles in 22.2 seconds and took the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet, 9 3/4 inches.

A real surprise was Salem's strength in the sprints. Tom Bauman was first in the 100-yard dash in 10.9 with teammate Mark Snyder, about a half step behind, in second place.

Art Spark of Salem toyed with his opponents going around the first turn of the 200-yard dash, then turned on the speed and sprinted to a five yard margin as he was timed in 24.2 to grab a first. Bauman finished second.

SALEM'S TAD BONSAI, who runs the 440-yard dash as if he were running the century, out-raced Roush of East Liverpool, and teammate Dave Coy to win the quarter-mile in 54.1 seconds.

In their usual one-two spots were John Tarleton and Bill Carter of Salem as they led the field by about 25 yards in the mile run. Tom Pim grabbed first in the 880-yard run in 210.4. Phil Brantingham was second and Carter fourth for the Quakers.

Snyder, Spack, Bauman and John Zilske provided Salem with a speedy 880-yard relay combination as the unit finished first in 1:36.1.

Bill Beery, making his initial appearance of the season, Dave Taus, Zilske and Bonsall won the mile relay by about 50 yards in 3:45.9.

THURSDAY NIGHT under the lights at Reilly Field, Salem will take on Alliance, at 7:30 p.m.

The Aviators have recorded times comparative with Salem's in most events so far this season.

Tickets for the meet will go on sale at the gate at 6 p.m. Price of admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Alliance senior Tom Green, out for track for the first time following two years of baseball, will compete in the sprints.

He runs the century in 10.5, 220 in 23.5 and the 440 in 53.8. Ed Hairston competes in both hurdle events. He has been timed in 16.7 in the highs and 22.3 in the lows.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS L. LIDE

The invigorating sunny days we had last week and although the sun shone last Saturday and Sunday the air was crisp. Fishermen of both sexes were out and everybody seemed to be in a carnival mood.

There were quite a few fishing at Kuyper's Landing at Lake Guilford and the crappies were cooperating in certain spots. The favored spot was the small space where the culvert enters under the roadway to a little bay on the west side. Three young men had the spot sewed up and were landing crappies from as little as they came upward to 11 inches.

MANY FISHERMEN had their eyes on the spot hoping the young men would move out so they could move in. One fisherman suggested they had better be getting home and get dressed for the dance. All kinds of wise-cracks were made and one fisherman suggested they give them a dime so they could go get a bottle of pop.

Nothing doing, they might be young and crappies were biting dancing, pop, or any other kind of suggestions went by the wayside.

EVEN I GOT in the act. When I walked upon the scene I said in a loud voice, "the game warden is here and in a very good humor today so everybody produce their fishing license". It went over real good and all I had to do was walk down the line and everybody had them ready for inspection.

The thing I really appreciate was the cheerful cooperation I got and more so, they all had their licenses and I left everybody smiling and that is just the way I hope things will be all season long.

ONE LADY, let's say she was over forty, showed me her license and she had pretty snow-white hair, something that goes along with age. I apologized for having to read the description on the license which designates the age, height, occupation etc., so after scanning it more carefully than I was given credit for I proceeded to read out loud, "age 29, color of hair, blond, eyes blue, weight 119 lbs., occupation, future Miss America. Of course this was all in fun but is there anything wrong acting like a human being instead of a dead-pan undertaker or local thug? I like to have people laugh with me when I make my rounds and it took me a good many years of experience to realize this.

This will probably be my last year as the local game protector. At least I want it this way and will have a short time now to make my final decision which depends on a few loose ends that must be solved. I am 66 years old and firmly believe the old guys should step aside and give the younger generation a chance in times like the present. I'm a salaried person and not the owner of the firm which is different. Sometimes, people with a lot of money invested have to stay with the firm regardless of age.

A 17-INCH WALLEYE caught below the Berlin Dam by Cliff Daley, 2525 Cornwall Avenue.

Youngstown, provided some information on the rate of growth of those stocked in Berlin April 7, 1962.

Taken on March 30, the wall-eye had been tagged when it measured 14.4 inches about one year ago. It had gone over the dam during high water.

The two and six-tenth-inch growth in one year is a reflection of an abundant food supply.

Two brown trout stocked in Berlin Reservoir early in April, 1962 were taken by anglers below the dam March 24, reports Dan Armbruster, district fish management supervisor, Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Both measured 11 inches which is good growth for a single year. More than a third of the fish checked in an ice fishing creek census on Berlin Reservoir were walleyes, reports Armbruster.

The census was conducted by the division's fishery personnel and supervised by John Cross, fish management agent. He said 564 fishermen were checked. They had caught 76 walleyes from eight to 17 1/2 inches. Crappies made up 46.8 per cent of the creel.

It was found that the majority of fish were caught during the first five weeks the ice was on the lake.

The first large muskie of the year was reported caught in Deer Creek Reservoir, Stark County, March 24. Max Duckworth, district patrolman for the Ohio Division of Wildlife, makes the announcement.

The muskie, big enough for honorable mention in the Ohio Muskie Club, was 33 inches long and weighed 10 pounds. It was taken by Alliance angler Zolie Warner.

DeMolay Cagers Lose 63-57 In State Tourney

The Salem DeMolay basketball squad participated in the State DeMolay Basketball Tournament last weekend at Cincinnati and after reaching the quarter-finals, bowed out of competition.

The locals were defeated by a tall, talented aggregation from Akron by a 63-57 count. Salem was behind the whole game and almost pulled it out a couple of times but failed to get the basket when it was needed.

Jim Schuster and Fred Ackerman paced Salem with 20 and 18 points respectively. Other players in the scoring column for Salem were Roger Zeigler with eight, Larry Schaffer with six, Don Davis with three, and Richard Stratton with two tallies.

The locals were the smallest team in the tourney with their biggest player at 6-2 1/2. Many of the other teams had players 6-5 and over.

The DeMolay's drew a first round bye and then played the Akron boys.

Romano, Whitfield, Alvis, Held Homer For Indians

Rookies Supply Most Power In Tribe's Opening Day 5-4 Decision Over Twins

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts said Cleveland would surprise a lot of teams in the American League this season. The Indians started right off by shocking the Minnesota Twins and their 20-game ace pitcher, Camilo Pascual.

It can't be classified as a surprise that the Indians beat the Twins 5-4 in the season's opener Tuesday behind Jim (Mudcat) Grant's seven-hitter. But that Cleveland whacked four homers, including a decisive two-run shot that carried 415 feet by Woodie Held, definitely comes under the heading of unusual.

"Those homers were no accident," said Manager Tebbetts.

"They didn't surprise me. We don't have the home run hitters to match the Killebrews or the Mantles, but we have distributed power.

Predicts Club Will Hit 180

"All our boys are capable of hitting them. As this club is now constituted, I predict we'll hit 180 homers this season."

The club record, set a year ago, is 180.

John Romano opened up the four-base blasting in the second inning. Lenny Green evened the count in the next inning with a homer.

Fred Whitfield and rookie Max Alvis hit their homers in the fourth frame for a 3-1 Cleveland lead. But the Twins bounced back with a pair of runs in their half of the inning.

Power Clouts Home Run
After Alvis doubled in the seventh, Held slammed a pitch over the center field fence for a 5-3 edge, just enough to withstand a solo homer in the eighth by Vic Power.

The Indians' other two prize rookies—shortstop Tony Martinez and centerfielder Vic Davalillo—went hitless but performed in fine style in the field. Martinez started three double plays and handled four other chances smoothly.

Tebbetts selected Sam McDowell to face the Twins' Jack Kralick in today's contest.

Beaver Creek Club To Meet Thursday

The regular April meeting of The Beaver Creek Sportsman Club will be held Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Club building on the Canfield Road.

Following the regular business session movies will be shown and a lunch will be served. President Gene Morrow plans to discuss and set up Spring activities.

Membership committee chairman, Pete Gwynne, reminds those members with their 1963 dues paid that a Club party will be held Saturday, April 20th, for members only.

Page 10 THE SALEM, OHIO, NEWS WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1963

winging, winning their opener with a four-homer salvo as the American League baseball season began to run full throttle.

Using "ballplayers nobody ever heard of," the Indians belted 20-game winner Camilo Pascual solidly Tuesday for a 5-4 opening day victory over Minnesota that had new Manager Birdie Tebbetts chirping.

Tebbetts borrowed the 11-minute calisthenic program labeled plan 5BX by the Canadian Air Force, and instituted it in spring training to get the Indians prepared for a quick getaway. There's no doubt his nobodies got away quick.

The nobodies included Jim Grant, who pitched a seven-hitter, and homer hitters Woodie Held, John Romano, rookie Max Alvis and newly acquired Fred Whitfield.

Said Tebbetts in somewhat of a challenge: "Cleveland has some ballplayers, but nobody ever heard of them. They will."

In other American League openers, the Chicago White Sox edged Detroit 7-5 behind newly acquired Pete Ward and Hoyt Wilhelm and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Boston 4-1 behind Ken McBride's four-hitter. Baltimore and Washington, who opened Monday, were not scheduled.

1st 3 Were Solo Homers

The Indians' first three runs came on solo homers by Romano in the second inning and Whitfield and Alvis in the fourth. Then, in the seventh with the score tied 3-3, Alvis led off with a double and Held crashed a 415-foot homer that put the game out of the Twins' reach. Grant was touched for solo homers by Lenny Green and Vic Power.

Pepitone's slugging paved the way for Terry, who received 13-hit support against a Kansas City team that seemed to have little going for it besides beautiful, tradition-breaking green and gold uniforms. Elston Howard also homered for the Yankees, tagging loser Diego Segui with one on in the fourth. Rookie Bill Bryan and newcomer Chuck Essegian connected for the A's.

Dodgers, Giants Triumph, Mets Defeated In Openers

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can be pardoned for that feeling that this is where you came in.

The National League baseball pennant chase got under way in earnest Tuesday, and these were some of the results on the first full day of action:

Don Drysdale, a 25-game winner last year, won for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Jack Sanford, 24 wins, got the victory for the San Francisco Giants, as Willie Mays (49 last season), Orlando Cepeda (35), Felipe Alou (25) and Willie McCovey (20) homered.

Tosses 4-Hitter At Reds
Art Mahaffey, 19 wins, set down the hard-hitting Cincinnati Reds on four hits, for the Philadelphia Phils.

And the New York Mets, 120 losses last year, fell on their faces.

The scores were Los Angeles 5, Chicago Cubs 1; San Francisco 9, Houston 2; Philadelphia 2, Cincinnati 1, and the St. Louis Cardinals 7, New York Mets 0.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who dropped the annual day-ahead opener Monday at Cincinnati to the Reds evened their record at 1-1 with a 3-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Dodgers victory may have been costly. Shortstop Maury Wills, the league's Most Valuable Player last year, left after the sixth inning with a jammed left ankle and was doubtful for today's game with the Cubs.

Wills, who stole 104 bases last season, revealed before the game that he had become worried about his valuable legs, and had gone to a hypnotist during the winter to try to get the worries off his mind. Wills apparently hurt the ankle in the third inning when he was thrown out at the plate on a double play.

Drysdale gave up 11 hits but was helped by three double plays, as he won his sixth straight over the Cubs. The Dodgers broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth when Willie Davis tripled and scored on a balk by pitcher Larry Jackson, obtained in a winter trade from the Cards. Rookie Ken McMullen iced the game with a two-run double in the ninth.

Sanford Gets Needed Relief
The Giants jumped off to a 6-0 lead at Houston. Cepeda's homer in the second opened the scoring and Sanford tripled home two runs in the same frame. Sanford weakened in the 90-degree heat and left in the sixth after giving up three straight singles. Jack Fisher, picked up in a trade with the Orioles, pitched hitless relief.

Mahaffey, the 24-year-old hard throwing right-hander, had a two-hit shutout going into the ninth. Frank Robinson opened that inning for the Reds with a single and moved to second on a ground out. Robinson scored when catcher John Edwards smashed a line double. Mahaffey then struck out Gene Freese and rookie Tom Harper to end the game, but only after Freese had missed a home run by a few feet foul.

Joey Jay, 21-14 last season, also pitched well, giving up only five hits in the seven innings he worked. Three singles, with Don Demeter's coming with two out, scoring the first Phillie run in the fourth. In the sixth, John Callison doubled and scored when Cincinnati first baseman Gordie Coleman let a double play relay throw get through him for an error.

Looks Like Last Year
The Mets, the worst tenth-place team in history last year, opened with an almost entirely new cast, but the same old act. They fumbled and fozzled the ball in the field, and were woeful at bat, as Ernie Brogio set them down with two hits. Larry Burdett got both, a single in the first inning and a double in the ninth. At one stage, Brogio retired 20 Mets in a row.

A newcomer, third baseman Bob Bailey, whose bonus has been estimated in the $1750,000 area, sparked for the Pirates. He hit a homer and a crucial single. The Pirates won in the ninth off reliever Bob Hendley, when Bill Virdon singled with two out, and Bailey beat out a slow roller for a hit. Then pinch hitter Ted Savage struck the winning blow, a single. Elroy Face, who pitched out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the ninth, got the win in relief.

Horse Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons Announces He'll Retire In June

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The doctor looked at the skinny exercise boy and told him: "Young man, you'd better give up racing. Stay away from that excitement or you won't last with that heart."

That was in 1887. Grover Cleveland was President. Now, 13 presidents and 76 years later, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons is going to take the doctor's advice. He is getting away from racing.

The famed, 88-year-old trainer will retire in June, ending a 78-year association with thoroughbred racing. He was the leading money winning trainer five times, saddling more than 2,000 winners—including two Triple Crown winners—and at one time or another his horses won almost every major race in America.

His mind is as keen and active as ever, but his bent old body has found "the work increasingly burdensome."

Akron Man Named Bowling President

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Roy Anderson of Akron is the new president of the Ohio State Men's Bowling Association, succeeding Richard Riley of Youngstown.

Others named during the state tournament here, and due to take office Aug. 1, were Alva Redman of Warren, first vice president; Tyke Politz of Middletown, second vice president; William Leslie of Zanesville, third vice president, and Paul Chambliss of Dayton, fourth vice president.

Virgil L. Furry of Columbus was reelected secretary-treasurer.

The 1964 tournament was awarded to Middletown, with the team event at the J. & J. Lanes and the minor events at the Sports-bowl Lanes. The 1965 tournament is scheduled at the Cloverleaf Lanes in Cleveland.

W. Reserve Juniors Capture Track Meet

The Western Reserve Junior High Track Team romped to a 110 1/2 to 25 1/2 victory over Sebring, at Sebring, Monday.

The Reserves took first place in 15 of the events, tied for first in the 16th event, and took both relays.

The announcement of his retirement was made Tuesday by Ogden Phipps, one of three generations of the Phipps family for whom Sunny Jim trains. He also handles the horses of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps' Wheatley Stable and those of her grandson, Ogden Mills Phipps.

He will be succeeded by Bill Winfrey, for many years the trainer for Alfred G. Vanderbilt and now with the California Breeders Association.

James E. Fitzsimmons was born July 23, 1874 in a house in Brooklyn which later was razed to make way for a horse race track, the old Sheephead Bay track.

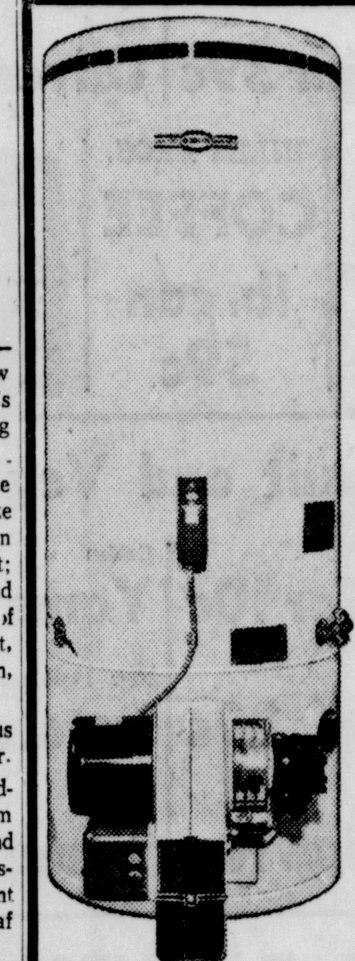

He first became associated with racing as a hot walker, stableboy and exercise boy in 1884. Three years later he contracted malaria at Long Branch, N.J. suffering from palpitations of the heart, he visited a doctor and came away with the basis for one of his favorite stories.

Quarterback Gross Is Signed By Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will have four passers for the July "quarterback camp" at Hiram, the latest entry being Jerry Gross of the University of Detroit.

The Browns announced Tuesday that Gross, a solid passer who was passed over in the draft selections because of his size, had been signed as a free agent. He's 5-foot-10 and weighs 170 pounds.

In addition to veterans Jim Ninowski and Frank Ryan, Gross will be joined at the Hiram camp by Jon Anabo, a left-handed pass from Fresno State.

FIRM PLANS CONTEST
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Plans have been announced by the Ohio Petroleum Council to conduct the second annual $1,000 statewide traffic safety contest. The contest will be conducted for three areas of highway safety enforcement, sheriff's offices, municipal police and Ohio Highway Patrol. Winners will each receive a $333 scholarship at a traffic school, one of which is held each year at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Middle-Age Content

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Who, being middle-aged, would ever want to be young again?

When you're young you wait impatiently at life's second table to be served. When you're middle-aged you point pontifically at the roast beef as it comes hot from the oven and say, "I'll have a slice there."

That's the big advantage of being middle-aged. You know better how to pick and choose among life's various possibilities. You learn to prefer durable contentments to present dismays.

It is the dream of youth to gallop toward every goal. It is a satisfaction of middle age to appreciate any distance you no longer have to march.

Youth eagerly tries to lift itself up by its bootstraps. Middle age would rather take its shoes off and rest on the sofa.

Youth believes you can mail away a box top with a quarter and you'll get something back that will make life greater, happier or better. Middle age prefers to hold on to the quarter.

When the sap flows freely in the ambitious sapling, it tries desperately to climb the sun. When the sap flows slower, the older tree is glad enough to be able to hold up its arms and take the climate as it comes.

The young dog winces and cries in the throes of puppy love. His elder watches the pretty ones go by, sighs reminiscently, and is grateful that a gay old dog can't be taught new tricks.

In youth one chases the horizon from dawn to dusk. In middle age one goes to bed before midnight comfortably sure that by morning the horizon will still be safely there to admire, no more perilously near than before.

When young, one feels the urge to write long and passionate love letters. As age takes its toll, one takes a nostalgic delight in reading someone else's foolish letters in the tabloid while munching a sandwich.

Youth is a desperate struggle in uncertainty; middle age is a thoughtful yawn of knowledge.

Youth doubts; age knows. There is no place that youth feels it can't get to. There is no place that middle age would rather be than here.

Youth argues with the wife; age just turns off the hearing aid and sits back and listens.

The young man wonders if he can ever pile up enough money. The older man feels pretty sure he can't.

The young man forgets his health. The older man is always reminded of it by his diseases.

Youth can't wait to be hurt; age recoils from pain by remembering days of gladness.

To the young the day is swift and the years seem long. To those older, each day is a forever but the years fleet by on invisible wings—so that afterward he never is quite sure where they flew.

Who, being middle-aged, would ever want to be young again?

Only the one who was young before.

STREUSEL PEACH PIE

1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) sliced cling peaches, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon plus ½ cup flour, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon finely grated orange rind, 8-inch pie shell with fluted rim, unbaked.

Turn peaches into a colander or strainer to drain thoroughly; sprinkle with lemon juice.

Mix peaches with ¼ cup of the sugar and 1 tablespoon flour; mix together the remaining ½ cup sugar and the ½ cup flour, butter and orange rind with a pastry blender until butter particles are fine.

Turn peach mixture into pie shell; sprinkle with flour mixture.

Bake on low shelf of a hot (425 degrees) oven until pastry and topping are lightly browned—30 to 40 minutes. Serve warm.

MRS. F'S ALMOND CRESCENTS

1-3 cup butter, ¼ cup granulated sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¾ cup grated blanched almonds, 2-3 cup unsifted flour, ¼ cup confectioners sugar.

Cream the butter, granulated sugar and vanilla. Add the almonds and flour; blend thoroughly with your fingers. Hand-shape into small crescents about ½-inch thick.

Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet in a slow (325 degrees) oven about 20 minutes, until bottom surface of cookies are tinged a golden color. Remove to wire rack to cool slightly; while still warm, roll in confectioners sugar. Makes 2 dozen.

Store cold cookies in tightly closed container. This recipe does not call for salt and we use unsalted butter in it.

If the almonds are blanched at home, they should be dried at room temperature, not toasted in the oven; grate them in a small handoperated rotary-type nut grater so they are fine.

Garnish Ham With Pineapple

To give your Easter ham the look of spring, garnish with little cups of carrot and pineapple flowers with bright green parsley for foliage.

Remove ham from oven about 1/2 hour before serving and cut diagonal lines across the fat to form a diamond design. Cover the surface with your own special glaze and return the ham to the oven. After it has completed its cooking schedule, attach small pineapple wedges on food picks in center of each diamond.

A pineapple garnish in paper cups sprouting carrot posies will give the perfect finishing touch to your Easter ham platter. For those leftovers which are always anticipated, try the recipe for Ham-Creamed Corn Skillet.

PINEAPPLE GARNISH

8-ounce can pineapple tidbits, drained, 1/2 cup mint jelly, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon syrup from pineapple tidbits, Small paper souffle cups, Parsley. Thin slices of carrot.

Combine one can of pineapple tidbits with mint jelly, lemon juice and pineapple syrup. Fill small paper cups with this fruit mixture. Garnish each cup with a spring of parsley. To make carrot flowers, cut fluted edged circles from thin slices of carrots. Fasten each "flower" on a pick. Top the flowers with a bit of parsley. Insert 3 or 4 picks into pineapple mixture in paper cups, makes it look like a blooming flower pot.

HAM-CREAMED CORN SKILLET
4 to 5 slices cooked ham, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-pound can cream-style corn, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, 1/2 cup grated cheese.

Fry onion in melted butter in a skillet until onion is tender but not browned. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat until cheese is melted, stirring occasionally. Top with ham slices. Cover skillet. Heat 10 minutes over low heat. Serve hot.

BRAN HEALTH BREAD

1 cup unsifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups ready-to-eat bran, 1/4 cup dark molasses, 1 cup buttermilk. Into a medium mixing bowl, sift together the flour, baking soda and salt; stir in the bran. Add molasses and buttermilk. Stir until no particles of flour can be seen. Turn into a greased loaf pan (8 by 4 by 3 inches). Batter will be thick; spread top evenly. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

Top surface will be flat without a crack. Loaf may be sliced right after cooling. Wrap in saran and store in tightly covered container and bread should stay moist for several days. Serve with butter.

CLOVE APPLES

2 pounds medium-sized cooking apples, 8 whole cloves, 1 cup light corn syrup.

Core, pare and quarter apples; slice each quarter into thirds. In a saucepan, bring the apples, cloves and corn syrup to a boil.

Simmer, uncovered, until apples lose their opaque look and are tender—15 to 20 minutes. Some of the slices will retain their shape.

Remove cloves, if you like, before serving.

Serve Nutritious, Savory Stew

A good stew, savory, rich tempting with large cubes of meat and an abundance of fresh vegetables, is always good news to a hungry family.

This recipe is packed with nutrition: protein, vitamins and minerals from the beef and assorted vegetables. Serve with potatoes, crusty bread and a green salad. There is a perfectly balanced and delicious meal.

FRESH VEGETABLE

BEEF STEW

3 pounds boneless top round, 1-3 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon ground thyme, 1-3 cup butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons olive or salad oil, 1-3 cup chopped onion, 2 1/2 cups beef stock or consomme, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 bay leaf, crumbled, 3 medium carrots, 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, 10 small white onions.

Trim excess fat from meat. Cut in 2-inch cubes. Combine flour, salt, pepper and ground thyme.

Coat the meat with this mixture. Melt butter or margarine.

Stir in olive or salad oil. Add meat and brown well on all sides. Stir in chopped onion and cook until onion is transparent.

Add beef stock, chopped parsley and bay leaf. Peel and shred carrots medium fine and stir into the mixture. Cover and simmer 2 hours or until meat is almost tender. Wash mushrooms and peel onions. Add to stew.

Cover and simmer 25 minutes or until onions are tender. Serve hot.

CHOCOLATE COOKIES

1-3 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon each baking powder, baking soda and salt, 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, melted, 1 egg, 1/2 cup cultured sour cream, 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts.

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream butter and sugar; mix in melted chocolate; beat in egg thoroughly, then sour cream. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, chocolate pieces and nuts.

Drop level tablespoons a few inches apart, on buttered cookie sheet.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen.

Wheat Germ Picks Up Quick Bread

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Although we are aware that wheat germ is a rich source of protein and chock full of B vitamins and minerals — and even the idea of all those nutrients is like a quick dose of energy — still the reason we have wheat germ around in our kitchen is because we like it.

And we commend it to you. Use it in the following recipe for a quick bread. See if you don't agree with us that it makes a worthwhile contribution to flavor and texture.

We sliced half this loaf as soon as it came from the oven so it could be enjoyed fragrant and warm. The rest of the loaf was cooled, wrapped tightly, and refrigerated.

Such cold storage helps to keep baking-powder breads from drying and makes them easy to slice. We like this loaf, after overnight storage, toasted and slathered with butter.

RAISIN NUT WHEAT LOAF

2 cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup sugar, ¾ cup wheat germ, ½ cup raisins, ½ cup chopped walnuts or pecans, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, 1-3 cup butter or margarine (melted).

Onto a piece of waxed paper, sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and sugar; stir in the wheat germ, raisins and nuts. In a medium mixing bowl, beat eggs slightly; add milk and beat to combine; add the melted butter and the flour mixture; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn into a greased loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 55 minutes. Loosen loaf from sides of pan; turn out on wire rack; turn right side up. Cool. Store in tightly covered container. Loaf may be sliced shortly after baking, but for thin slices, leave overnight.

COCONUT CRISPS

1 cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon double acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1-3 cups (about) flaked coconut, 1 to 2 cups lightly crushed corn flakes.

Sift together the flour, baking powder, and salt. Cream butter until soft. Gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla and beat well. Add flour mixture. Stir in coconut and 1 cup corn flakes. Drop by teaspoonfuls into remaining corn flakes and roll to coat with the cereal.

Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 12 minutes.

S. American Teacher Talks In Columbiana

Kiwanians Hear Missionary

COLUMBIANA—Lester A. Hickman, missionary on leave from Columbia, South America, who is currently living in East Liverpool, was the featured speaker at Monday's Kiwanis Club meeting held at Heck's. He was accompanied by his wife.

Hickman, who was introduced by program chairman John Golden, is now teaching in East Liverpool schools. Before entering mission service under the United Presbyterian Board of Missions, he was principal of Hopedale schools.

Hickman stated that Columbia's capital city has a literacy rate of 15 per cent, and many teachers have only a third grade education. He went on to say that conditions of extreme poverty exist in the country, with the average family, numbering 10 or 12 chilren, subsisting on a diet of beans and rice.

Hickman said the Communist party has established its own Air Force, Army and Naval training programs in Columbia.

In other business, induction services were held for new member Howard Yokley by Don Burklo and Gus Isaksson.

A note of thanks from the Beaver State Park Committee for the club's support was read by president Tracy Powell.

Guests were Kiwanis Lieutenant Governor Ed Greenamyer of Leetonia, Mrs. Howard Yokley, Mrs. Tracy Powell and Mrs. John Golden.

2 Leetonians Chosen To Attend Boys State

LEETONIA — Roger McElroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McElroy of Somer St., and George Zeppernick, son of Mrs. Jean Zeppernick of Columbia St., have been selected to attend Boys State from June 13 to June 22 at Ohio University.

Boys State is sponsored by American Legion organizations throughout the state of Ohio. Designated as a workshop for the apprenticeship in citizenship, it is a school in government by means of practical application.

To be eligible, a student must be a high school junior, an outstanding member of his class, be self-reliant and show initiative and a sincere interest in American government.

Both McElroy and Zeppernick and alternates Thomas Sanders and Charles Walton were selected by the Leetonia High School faculty and sponsored by the Joe Williams American Legion Post of Leetonia.

HOLY COMMUNION will be administered at the 7:30 p. m. service Thursday at the Lutheran Church. Sermon will be "For You and For Many."

A community Good Friday service from 1 to 3 p. m. will be sponsored by the Lutheran, Mennonite, Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The service will be held in the Lutheran Church. A special musical number will be furnished by each congregation.

"The Trials of Our Lord" will be presented by Rev. Daniel L. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church of Salem, and "The Triumphs of Our Lord" will be given by Dr. Paul J. Graham, associate pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Salem.

The free will offering will be given to the Community Vacation Bible School which will be held in the Orchard Hill School the first two weeks of June.

Mrs. Sylvia Clunnen and Mrs. Hazel McClish returned home Sunday after spending the weekend in Washington, D. C.

Rev. Jacquelyn Craig, associate pastor of Methodist Church in Columbiana, will be the speaker and Mrs. Albert Oakes will be the leader at the Holy Week service tonight at the Leetonia Methodist Church.

Holy Communion will be administered at 7 p. m. Thursday by Rev. Albert F. Oakes.

SUFFERS FATAL INJURIES CLEVELAND (AP)—Douglas S. Meaden, 73, of Cleveland Heights suffered fatal injuries when his car, driven by his wife, moved forward accidentally and dragged him 37 feet Tuesday.

CHERRY QUEEN — Kathryn Pugmire (above) of Salt Lake City, Utah, was named the 1963 Queen of the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C.

GRACE UNITED CHURCH of Christ will hold a Good Friday service of music and Scripture at 8 p. m. It will also be directed toward spiritual preparation for communion at 6 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Adin Miller returned Saturday from a two-month visit to Florida.

South Side Club meeting has been postponed from Thursday to April 18 because of Holy Week. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul Chaddock of 515 S. Main St.

A son, Jonathon Edward, was born April 2 to Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Rehl of S. Main St. at Salem City Hospital. Mrs. Rehl and son returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Miller has been confined to Salem City Hospital for three weeks.

MRS. G. G. PATCHEN and Mrs. Charlotte Shearer left recently for California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller returned from Los Angeles, Calif., where they visited with their son, Roger.

Miss Elizabeth Kratz is confined to Salem City Hospital with a broken hip.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harris have moved from Renkenberger Rd. to RD 2, Upper Elkton Rd.

CRAFT RUNS AGROUND CINCINNATI (AP)—The S. S. Peirce was downriver from Cincinnati today on her maiden voyage from Point Pleasant, W. Va., to Mobile, Ala., for sea trials.

The 161-foot craft ran aground on an uncharted sandbar below the Anthony Meldahl dam at Chilo Tuesday but was pulled off a few hours later by an Ohio River tugboat and continued on her way.

Beloit Ruritan to Hear Mount Staff

BELOIT — Members of the Beloit Ruritan Club will hear a member of the coaching staff from Mount Union College at their father-son night at Smith Grange hall tonight.

Fuss Over; Wayward Bus Is Found

YOUNG, Ariz. (AP)—The great fuss over the wayward bus is over.

A two-state search for a busload of 10 high school students and five adults from Young ended in a Harbor City, Calif., motel Tuesday night.

All hands were reported safe. The bus driver, W. H. Merchant, principal of the high school, said the bus wasn't missing at all.

The bus left this tiny central Arizona community Saturday for an Easter vacation trip to Disneyland, Marineland and the San Diego Zoo.

Arizona authorities began a two-state search after members of the group failed to telephone their families Saturday night. The parents understood they were to get nightly phone calls, authorities said.

Merchant told police there was no such agreement. Besides, he explained, there were only a couple of telephones in Young, and it was often impossible to reach the town.

Adding to the confusion, police said, was the group's decision not to check in at the Long Beach, Calif., hotel, where they had reservations. Merchant said they decided to stay at a motel in nearby Harbor City because the Long Beach hotel was perilously close to an amusement area and sailors out on the town.

Police said they found the missing Arizonaans after getting a phone tip from someone who had heard about the missing bus and spotted it in Harbor City.

Merchant told officers they plan to go to San Diego Thursday, then return home Friday or Saturday.

The management at the motel refused to let newsmen talk to the Arizonaans. "There's been too much commotion already," a spokesman said.

Rhodes-Backed Bills Passed

4th Measure Set For House Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This is a good week in the legislature for bills backed by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes' backers among the lawmakers jammed through three bills Tuesday to support his program. A fourth, scheduled for a House vote today, would set up an anti-delinquency youth commission in keeping with a campaign pledge. If adopted, the youth commission bill will go to the Senate.

Ready for Rhodes' signature as soon as all the legislative formalities are over are bills to:

Create a state board of regents to supervise higher education in Ohio.

Direct Ohio utilities to make quarterly payments of their present annual tax which finances the poor relief program.

Reduce the present four-member Liquor Control Board to a three-member liquor commission at increased salaries.

The regents bill, with solid Republican support, popped out of the Senate with GOP amendments limiting any future members of state university boards of trustees to a maximum of nine years in office. The limit is similar to the limit placed by the main bill to members of the board of regents.

The idea, presented by Sen. Kline L. Roberts, R-Franklin, is to keep fresh ideas in front of university trustees for their consideration.

The bill would not, as originally intended, have any control of the degree programs of the major universities. The universities would have the last word in that area.

The floor fight which kept the Senate in session about 4½ hours also included eventual passage of a bill to permit the state to make quarterly, instead of annual, collections from public utilities to pay both state and local poor relief payments.

Democratic senators from metropolitan counties insisted the state would be taking advantage of a situation in which the hard-pressed state treasury could pick up about $35 million in ready cash with equally hard-pressed county relief districts picking up no money.

Finance Director Richard L. Krabach, who disclaims sponsorship of the bill, proclaims: "We'll be glad to have any measure which builds up the treasury."

But minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas, and Sen. Charles J. Carney, D - Mahoning, both pointed out that counties with big relief problems are as much in the hole, proportionately, as the state.

Why, they asked, should the state be enabled to get off the financial hook without a proportionate benefit to relief districts?

Republican backers of the bill argued that relief districts would n't lose a penny under the proposal.

LEGAL NOTICE Notice is hereby given that the Board of trustees of the Damascus Monthly Meeting of Friends, Damascus, Columbiana County, Ohio, has filed its Petition in the Common Pleas Court of Columbiana County as cast No. 4839 praying for authority to borrow from The First National City Bank of Alliance, Ohio, the sum of Seventy Thousand Dollars ($70,000.00) to be paid back in equal monthly installments of Seven Hundred Dollars ($700.00) each, which payments are to include interest at five (5) per cent per annum on the unpaid balance and payments on principal, and to evidence the debt with a promissory note secured by a first mortgage on property described as follows:

Situated in the Village of Damascus, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as being lots numbered 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 as will appear by the records of said County of Columbiana, and shown by the plat of said village of Damascus aforesaid, and that the same will be for hearing on or after May 7, 1963.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I took a walk down where the covered bridge used to be on the road they want to open between Leetonia and Salem. There is going to be a lot of talk for and against this project and I want to know a few facts about it before I say much.

I can see a lot of good in this road, myself. I know I would use it many times each week.

I don't believe if this road was put through it would affect us getting route 62 south of Salem if that is where route 62 should go to benefit the most people.

Meets With Cabinet Today

Diefenbaker To Decide Whether To Quit Post

TORONTO (AP)—Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker flies to Ottawa today for talks that should determine whether he will try to remain in office despite the Liberal party victory in Monday's election.

The 67-year-old Conservative leader called a meeting Thursday of his lame duck Cabinet to consider the question.

He is expected to confer with leaders of the Social Credit and New Democratic parties to see whether they would support him if he decides to stay on. He would need the backing of both.

He probably will not announce his decision until the armed forces vote is tabulated. That may be another week. Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson is ready to form a government if and when Diefenbaker steps down.

The Liberals won the largest number of seats in the House of Commons but fell five short of a majority. They captured 128 of the 265 seats and the Conservatives took 96. The remainder were divided among the smaller parties—24 to Social Credit and 17 to the New Democrats.

The Liberals could pick up two or three additional seats when the service votes are all in, but there is only the remotest possibility they could get the 133 needed to give them a majority.

Under a precedent established by the late W. L. Mackenzie King, Diefenbaker could continue as prime minister without having the largest party in Commons but it would be necessary for him to have support from other parties. It is customary for the leader of the largest party to form the government.
